

Ulster County Highway System Is Again In a Traveling Condition

Superintendent Loughran Reports All County Roads Open To Traffic With Immediate Trouble Remedied; Work To Be Done.

REGULAR PROGRAM

Regular Highway Construction and Maintenance Program Remains Dormant.

Ulster county's highway system is again in traveling condition after damage caused by the flood of a week ago has been repaired. County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran reported this morning that all county roads were again open to traffic with immediate trouble remedied but that there remained considerable work to be done to finish up and protect work already done. In several instances it will be necessary to re-establish the creek channels which were filled up by the recent floods which did particular damage in the towns of Ulster and Shandaken.

During the very severe flood great stones and other debris were washed into the creek channels and in many instances creeks changed their channels entirely. In order to protect bridges and highways the old creek channels will be dredged and re-established.

The Wolven bridge at Zena which was damaged when one abutment dropped is again open after temporary repairs were made. Whether the bridge is damaged beyond repair will not be known until a complete survey is made of the damage.

Mr. Loughran is preparing plans and specifications for the construction of such bridges on the county road system as were destroyed by the high water. In some instances it will be necessary to build new structures as the old ones were washed completely out.

Thus far the emergency work has been done out of a special emergency fund of $25,000 which was appropriated the day following the flood.

The regular highway construction and maintenance program remains dormant with no conference yet called by the chairman of the Board of Supervisors as suggested might be done by the State Department of Highways in an effort to iron out the difficulties which exist. Chairman Alfred Markle has stated that he is willing to hold a conference with the members of the board's highway committee, himself and Mr. Loughran, but has declined to invite the State Department of Highways to have its representative sit in and attempt to adjust the differences as was suggested might be of benefit by Division Engineer Bixby. The minority party contends that the highway committee, appointed under provisions of Section 320-a of the Highway Law, has no authority to act in the present situation which involves roads to be built under Section 320-b. Section 320-b under which the county is operating its system of roads makes no provision for such a committee.

Some time ago Mr. Loughran submitted his program to the Division Engineer and also the program which was sanctioned by the board but which he did not approve. This was done to bring the matter to the attention of the Highway Department. Both plans were returned because they were not properly signed and at that time a conference was held by Mr. Bixby at a conference he held in an effort to straighten out the matter and get work started. He suggested that the board send representatives to a conference which could be attended by the County Superintendent and a representative of the Highway Department. His suggestion was that such conference be called either for Kingston or at Poughkeepsie. At the last meeting of the board of supervisors such a conference was denied. Mr. Markle stated he would meet the County Superintendent in conference with the Highway Committee but excluded the State Highway Department's representative.

MRS. VANDERBILT'S ESTATE

OF SEVERAL MILLION DOLLARS

New York, July 18 (AP)—A number of trust funds under the will of an estate of several million dollars, though the value was stated merely as "more than $20,000,000."

Mrs. Vanderbilt died last July 7. Her will was filed for probate yesterday at New York. It named her former husband, William K. Vanderbilt, co-executor with a bank and referred to him as "the father of my three children."

The instrument was dated June 5, 1928. Among its provisions was an annual income of $50,000 for her son, William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., who was killed in an automobile accident last fall.

Her two daughters are the chief beneficiaries. Muriel Vanderbilt Phelps of Middletown, N. J., was left a trust fund worth $75,000 annually, and Consuelo Vanderbilt Smith was bequeathed a trust fund worth $150,000 annually.

Mrs. Phelps also was given jewelry, table silver and automobile. Mrs. Smith will receive jewelry, a Long Island country estate and the Manhattan town home in which her mother died.

Is Reported Drowned From Greek Ship Off Kingston Point Light

An unidentified man was drowned from the Greek steamship Argentina off the Kingston light about 5:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and thus far the body has not been recovered. The drowning took place in about 60 feet of water.

As the Greek ship en route from the Port of Albany to New York was passing the lighthouse at the mouth of the Rondout creek a man was seen to fall overboard. The ship was stopped and turned and cruised over the spot for a time before resuming its course down the river.

Trooper Paul Senecal, who had been called to Tucker's Beach at Port Ewen, observed the actions of the ship but no report was made to either the Troopers or the local police by officers of the boat. The drowning took place just south of the lighthouse.

When the "man overboard" signal was given the tramp ship which was traveling slowly down the river was stopped and turned and circled the spot for a time but apparently without again locating the man, apparently a member of the ship's crew.

The sheriff's office was notified by a person who witnessed the act and this morning the local police were notified of the drowning. Trooper Senecal stated this morning that he had received no word as to the identity of the person. It is presumed the ship's officers will report the matter on reaching New York.

Asks Official Apology for Lehman

Niagara Falls, Ont., July 18 (AP)—William L. Houck, member of the Ontario legislature, planned today to make a formal protest to Ottawa over alleged discourtesy to Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York and his party when they came here Monday night to see the illumination of the falls. The governor was attended by an escort of 12 motorcycle police, including state troopers and Niagara Falls, N. Y., officers. At the end of the bridge the police were told by Canadian border officials they would have to give up their guns. A majority of them refused and returned to the American side. Houck said local officers were permitted to enter the United States when wearing guns and he feels an official apology is due the governor and his party.

Kingstonians For and Against Proposed New City Charter

The city of Kingston, while a municipality is a large business institution, and therefore to be successfully managed must, like all large business institutions, be managed and operated on sound business principles. There is one man as chief manager and director of the business affairs, must choose with discrimination competent men to head and manage the various departments. Without this care you cannot hope for a successful management, but this power must be vested somewhere and the mayor of the city is the only one who should exercise this selection. The city under the new charter provides an election of mayor and the other

Washington, July 18 (AP)—R. P. Herron, utility bond salesman, told the senate lobby committee today he had "burned his records" in connection with a campaign against the utility holding company bill.

Earlier, he said he had sent more than 1,000 telegrams from Warren, Pa., to members of congress opposing the utility bill but insisted they had either been signed or the persons whose names he obtained from the city telephone directory had authorized that action. He said Western Union was to get authorization for some of the signatures.

Herron, employed by the Utilities Investment Corporation, agents for the Associated Gas and Electric Company, agreed under questioning the destruction was for the purpose of removing evidence in event of an investigation.

He said the records destroyed were "unsigned telegrams, copies of news items and editorials, not of an incriminating nature."

He said E. W. O'Brien, his superior at Erie, had called him and said he had destroyed his records and took this to mean he should destroy his own.

Testimony also has been received that the originals of telegrams sent from Warren were burned.

Herron said he told Jack Fisher, suspended manager of Western Union at Warren that he had destroyed his records.

Fisher said, Herron testified, it "would be a good thing if they had a fire too."

"What did you say?" asked Chairman Black.

Herron testified that in a joking way he replied: "Anybody could throw a barrel of kerosene in the cellar."

He denied connection with burning the telegrams in the Western Union office.

Herron said he discussed with Fisher, at the request of L. S. Shew, Western Union manager at Erie, an "alibi" for the burning of the Western Union telegrams but that Fisher denied destroying the messages.

He said Shew, at a conference with him and O'Brien last Saturday, expressed concern because so many messages were written on Western Union typewriters.

"He asked me to see Fisher and tell him to come clean," Herron went on, "because he didn't want to see Fisher lose his job."

"I did that. I told Fisher if he had anything to do with the burning he should tell the truth. Fisher said he hadn't anything to do with it."

Herron said at the Shew conference Shew suggested "someone might have left the basement door open for me to burn the messages."

"But I can prove an alibi," Herron said, "for those days."

He said he was at home the evening of the fire.

O'Brien, taking the stand, said he had destroyed all his records at the request of U. E. Beach, another Associated Gas official, at Ithaca, N. Y.

"I set the records aside, in a wastebasket," O'Brien said. "He added that Beach told him 'We had no longer use for our legislative records—use for our work with utility legislation work.'"

He said he relayed to Herron that there was to be an investigation and he should clear out his files.

Drive Gets Setback

Binghamton, N. Y., July 18 (AP)—The drive against chiropractors in the Binghamton area received a setback today with the acquittal of Earl S. Laman, accused of illegally practicing medicine. A city court jury freed Laman last night after a trial which lasted nine hours. He was one of 22 chiropractors in the area. The others are to be tried later.

General Goering Orders A Strict Enforcement Of Anti-Catholic Laws

"Political Catholicism," Says Nazi Official, Must Be Overcome by Positive "National Socialism," Sees End of Youth Groups.

PRIESTS WARNED

Priests Will Be Tolerated Only Insofar as They Adhere to the Terms of Order.

Berlin, July 18 (AP)—Hermann Wilhelm Goering, minister of aviation and commander of Germany's secret police, today issued an order to criminal prosecution authorities to enforce strictly the existing decrees against "political Catholicism."

Goering said this Catholicism "must be overcome by positive national Socialism."

Foreboding the end of all Catholic organizations, he stressed the important task which the Hitler youth movement faces in the present clash between the philosophies of life.

Today's decree said: "The minister emphatically demands that all authorities promote the Hitler youth organization."

It continued with a claim that Goering, now as before, rejects the idea of a cultural fight against the Roman Catholic Church but said, "all means will be invoked against those Catholic priests who misuse their religious authority."

The order follows shortly after a bitter protest by the Catholic Church against the sterilization law, the restriction of Catholic youth organizations and the use of Rosenberg's paganistic book "The Mystery of the Twentieth Century" as often causing a violation of the concordat with the Vatican.

Catholic priests who are religious teachers will be tolerated in the future, under the terms of the order, only if they change into Nazi propagandists.

"It must be demanded," said the decree, "that Catholic priests refrain from expressing a negative attitude toward national Socialism but express their unlimited support of Nazi ideas."

"At another point, the decree stated: 'If the Catholic movements do not fundamentally change their attitude, they will be regarded as political organizations and will be forbidden.'"

Today, just as suddenly as the Nazi Storm Troopers were ordered after Monday's anti-Jewish riots in the Kurtuerstendamm to wear their uniforms, local Storm Troop commanders resented that order.

"Storm Troop men," said the announcement, "you proved fully that you are ready to do your bit."

The dark figures of wirepullers are known to you. They will ever find us ready. The Storm Troops are watching."

The propaganda ministry interpreted the rescinding order as positive proof that normal conditions had been reestablished and that no recurrence of anti-Jewish riots need be feared.

Nevertheless, anti-Semitic propaganda continued and automobiles of officials of the labor creation organization known as "power through joy" displayed posters advertising the anti-Jewish magazine "Stuermer."

The Catholic Charge

Wurtzburg, Germany, July 18 (AP)—Catholic circles asserted they learned today of Nazi party plans to announce abrogation of Germany's concordat with the Holy See.

Catholic circles, they were amazed on being informed that Nazis would break off the concordat, concluded between the Hitler regime and the Vatican July 8, 1933, during their annual convention in September at Nurnberg.

No confirmation of the Catholic report could be obtained from Nazi sources, since such matters are held confidential.

Dr. Wilhelm Frick, Nazi minister of interior, has come out openly on the side of Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, leader of the German faith movement, and Catholic circles were convinced that the concordat would be abrogated.

These sources said Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler was determined to establish a special ministry for religion of all faiths, with Hans Kerrl, president of the Prussian Diet, in charge as minister without portfolio.

The Vatican already has protested to Berlin against alleged violation of the concordat.

Objections were offered to application of Nazi sterilization laws to Catholics, interference with Catholic lay organizations, and attacks on the freedom of the Catholic press in Germany.

The Vatican asserted that these last phases of the Nazi-Catholic controversy were specifically covered in the concordat.

Blonde American Dancer Fined For "Outraging" Parisian Morals.

Paris, July 18 (AP)—Joan Warner, the blonde American dancer, was found guilty today of "outraging the morals" of Paris and was fined $2.50.

Miss Warner did her "outraging" by dancing in the nude. The decision against the American made a head for a widespread prosecution of all nude dances in theaters and night clubs here.

Roosevelt Is Silent Today on Excess Profit Taxes, Baffles Capital

Committee Meets Today for General Discussion of Issues and Policies Involved; President May Agree on Profits Tax.

SMALL MAN PENALTY

Some Observers Say That Roosevelt Is Indifferent To Outcome, Stands By Original Bill.

Washington, July 18 (AP)—The strength behind the congressional drive to impose heavy taxes on excess profits was disclosed today when it was reported authoritatively the subject had been broached to President Roosevelt.

He was said to have been non-committal. Further discussions with him were certain since varied interpretations were placed upon the fact that he had not committed himself.

Some said that meant it made no particular difference to the President; others argued it implied he was standing by his original suggestion.

When the President messaged Congress about a tax bill for a "wider distribution of wealth," he suggested the present flat 13 1/2 per cent tax on net corporation income be replaced by a graduated, progressive tax starting at 10% and rising to 16 1/2 per cent.

The National Association of Manufacturers, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and individual business men protested that plan, contending it would penalize small investors in big businesses.

Immediately sentiment began to grow in the House ways and means committee for a tax on excess profits rather than the graduated levy on net corporation income.

Calculators found that with a flat 5 per cent tax on all income over a 13 1/2 per cent profit the government collected $5,298,000 in eleven months of the last fiscal year.

Figuring that indicated excess profits of about $100,000,000, many in the committee asserted a reduction in the allowable profit and a stiff increase in the taxes on the excess would produce considerable revenue.

Likewise, they held the excess profits tax to be more "equitable" and more nearly comparable to the present individual income tax, which the President said was "wisely" predicated upon the idea of taxing those who were best able to pay.

Committee leaders, talking privately, predicted if the committee did favor the excess profits levy instead of the graduated corporation income tax the President would agree.

A final choice by the committee between the two was not expected for at least a few days. Having set everything else aside in an effort to hurry the tax plan, the committee met again today for another general discussion of issues and policies involved.

Treasury Receipts.

Washington, July 18 (AP)—The position of the treasury July 15, was: Receipts $18,669,759.94; expenditures $17,514,196.73; balance $1,155,563.21. Customs receipts for the month $11,114,970.12. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1) $164,886,428.49; expenditures $550,922,785.40; (including $250,692,315.53 of emergency expenditures); excess of expenditures $386,036,355.91; gross debt $23,174,940,197.93; a decrease of $2,846,121.75 from the previous day; gold assets, $9,126,521,120.86.

Charged With Murder

Little Rock, Ark., July 28 (AP)—A 16-year-old girl and a 28-year-old man were in jail today formally charged with murder in the strange death of Isabel Mahar, 14, of Fort Smith on a Fourth of July swimming party. Chief of Detectives J. A. Pitcock directed further inquiry after Clyde Trammell, 28, and Miss Dorothy Karpis, 16, were brought here from Fort Smith and placed in separate jails. Formal murder charges were filed against them at Fort Smith by Prosecuting Attorney Finlay Batchelor.

Mayor Says Present Status of Volunteer Firemen Not Affected

Mayor Heiselman, when asked this morning his reaction to the reported attempt to put all the fire companies of the city on record as opposed to the new charter, made the following statement:

The new charter will not affect, or change, the present status of the volunteer firemen.

The argument has been advanced that the Fire Commissioners, because they themselves are volunteer firemen, will be more interested in the welfare of the volunteer companies than the city officials who are elected at the polls by the people, including the volunteer firemen and their families. That argument is erroneous and false, as the Fire Commissioners cannot and do not appropriate the money necessary for the maintenance of the volunteer companies. The Fire Commissioners, therefore, cannot assure their maintenance. The budget, which appropriates funds necessary for the volunteer companies, is controlled and passed by the Mayor and Common Council. Therefore, at present, the maintenance of the volunteers depends solely on the Mayor and Common Council.

Under the new charter, the volunteers will depend for funds on the Board of Estimate and the Common Council, all of whom will be elected at the polls by the people. May I ask, therefore, how the welfare of the volunteers will be endangered by the new charter?

The volunteer firemen are a beneficial supplementary organization to the paid fire department. In view of the small amount appropriated to them annually for light and heat, why should any city board or official want to do away with this valuable auxiliary to the paid fire-fighting organization which has rendered such loyal and faithful service throughout the years? The expenditures annually for the volunteers is very slight. In fact, the citizens of Kingston are receiving the services of the volunteers for virtually nothing.

If the volunteers were abolished, it would, I understand, substantially increase fire insurance rates in this city, or it would require the city to increase the number of paid firemen. This would necessitate the expenditure of a considerable sum in addition to the amount already appropriated to the fire department. It is, therefore, economically necessary to retain the volunteer firemen.

I have been aware of the propaganda being circulated among the firemen by persons who are either uninformed of the true meaning of the new charter or who are motivated by selfish motives having nothing to do with the welfare of either the city or the volunteer firemen. Knowing the volunteers as I do, however, I have been confident that alone that they had the welfare of the city and the fire department at heart to such a degree that they would not fall for the line that has been and is being bandied out. There are too many level heads and good citizens in the volunteer companies to be used by anyone for political purposes. I am sure that the firemen are as anxious for the welfare of the city as are other good citizens. I know they are too smart to be fooled and am confident that they will make up their own minds as to whether the new charter as a whole is an improvement over the old system and will act accordingly on July 23.

I have not thought it was necessary to make this public declaration, but since you have asked I give you my views for what purpose you think they will serve.

'King of Kings and the Lion of Judah Makes Impassioned Address to the Parliament and His Soldiers.

DANGER OF WAR

Italians Meanwhile in Official Press Accuse Tribesmen of Mutilating Numerous Children.

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, July 18 (AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie called on all Ethiopians to follow him into battle today, declaring it was better to die free man than to live without liberty.

The King of Kings and Lion of Judah, addressed both his parliament and his soldiers.

In impassioned tones, he said the military preparations by Italy, now going forward, proved the intentions of that country to conquer Ethiopia.

He called on his subjects to unite and cooperate for the defense of the country, saying he would lead the troops into war. He appealed to all not to fear death.

"Our ancestors," he shouted, "preserved their independence by sacrificing their lives. Follow their example."

"God will be our fortress and shield and the modern armament of aggressors cannot deter our duty which is sacred for Ethiopian independence."

Reviewing Ethiopia's past relations with Italy and the events from the skirmish at Alual last December until now, the emperor described Ethiopia's efforts for a peaceful settlement of the dispute and also similar efforts by the British which, he said, Premier Mussolini of Italy had "brutally rejected."

He said the fact that Italian military preparations were continuing proved Italy's intention to conquer Ethiopia forcibly and said the danger of war was evident despite the fact that Ethiopia was profoundly imbued with respect for promises and the sanctity of treaties.

Did Not Wish War.

He said Ethiopia did not wish war but would defend herself to the last man if attacked.

He said Ethiopia did not desire a hegemony and did not menace her neighbors but was mistress of her own country and would fight to the bitter end defending her integrity, independence and sovereignty.

The emperor declared that Italian intentions to use modern scientific weapons of warfare would meet with the resistance of all his subjects.

Haile Selassie declared: "Soldiers, when on the battlefield you learn the death of your beloved and respected chief, who has fallen in the defense of liberty, do not weep and do not despair but think of those who die for the fatherland as happy mortals!"

"Soldiers, traders, peasants, young and old men and women: Unite and cooperate for the defense of the country."

As in the past, women will heroically participate in the defense of the country, encouraging the soldiers and treating the wounded.

"Regardless of faiths, all will face the invader in common unity, thwarting the efforts of Italy to create discord between Christians and Mohammedans."

Your sovereign, now speaking, will be among you unhesitatingly to spill all his blood for independence!"

He repeatedly stressed that Ethiopia does not want war and is desirous of following the ways of peace mentioned in the Kellogg-Briand pact. He said his appeal to the United States under that pact and the initiation of final steps by the League of Nations Council was proof of this desire.

"If our repeated efforts for good will fail, our conscience is clear and the Ethiopian people, united, can confidently stretch their hands to God who will uphold the just cause of our country, upholding the heroic courage of our soldiers in a battle for independence."

In Excellent Shape.

Rome, July 18 (AP)—Premier Mussolini informed his nation today that Italy's military preparations in her colony of Ethiopia, east of Ethiopia, are in excellent shape.

This announcement was contained in a telegram from Gen. De Bono, high commissioner of Ethiopia. After receiving reports from De Bono, Mussolini telegraphed:

"I wish to inform the country the work of the high commissioner have been developed in all fields with intense and conscious rhythm so as to put Ethiopia in a position to face present and future tasks."

"All that is necessary for the life of a population ten times in increased and of the metropolitan and native army—roads, water, foodstuffs, barracks, communications, hospitals, and an infinite number of other necessities have been provided for despite the difficulties which, for various reasons, principally that of great distances, have been immense."

"The connection at the Port of Massawa, which gave us direct communication, is about to be re-established."

Mrs. Waley Shows Satisfaction Today

Tacoma, Wash., July 18 (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Thulin Waley, convicted Weyerhaeuser kidnaper, expressed satisfaction with her 20-year sentence today, unaware that she must wait much longer than she expected to rejoin her husband.

Harmon M. Waley, husband of the 19-year-old blonde, was transferred and at the same time to Washington to Alcatraz Island Prison yesterday state detainer was filed against him. This action doubles the time the kidnaper must serve before a possible reunion with his wife.

Waley, who confessed to the abduction of the nine-year timber fortune heir, George Weyerhaeuser, may still be released after 30 years for good conduct but he may never be paroled. If the detainer had not been filed he would have been eligible for parole after serving 15 years of his 45-year sentence.

Mrs. Waley, who contentedly accepted her sentence because "it will make it easier waiting for Harmon," is expected to be taken to the Federal Women's Detention Farm at Milan, Mich., within a week.

"Now every day will bring me nearer to Harmon," she said as she asked her attorney not to appeal.

Mountains of Teton Park

Have Lakes to Add Charm

It has been said that the only mountains in the world that look as mountains should look are the Teton, which serve as a writer in the Washington Star. This range is included in Grand Teton National park, in western Wyoming, one of the national parks. The Teton range, which rises as sheer precipices from the shores of Jackson lake, without any gradual incline to lessen the contrast between the pinnacles and the plain. Along the eastern base of the Teton range, protected by a heavy forest, are seven lakes of Alpine grandeur. Six of them lie within the park boundary.

Seen from the north, the massive mountains resemble a colossal cathedral, with the Grand Teton as the central spire. From the south and east the view of this main peak is strikingly similar to that of the Matterhorn of the Alps.

Bordering the park on the east is Jackson Hole, with its historical interest and romance. In pioneer days this region was famous both as a hunting ground and as hiding places for the hunted. Fugitives from the law found sanctuary in its fastnesses and many border romances were woven around it. Today it is dotted with peaceful dude ranches and only the memory of the old turbulent days remains.

Plant Propagators Find

Apple Is Most Contrary

Cornell university scientific plant propagators in pursuit of the mystery of life have taken a step that involves even greater mystery. They have discovered that the apple tree seems to be an exception to one of the most generally recognized principles in the production of its fruit.

Everyone knows that parents share their characteristics in their children, and that in animal husbandry and plant propagation great care is taken to retain desirable characteristics by careful selection of parent stocks. But the apple tree appears to be independent of this law.

For the New York experimenters have found that pollen from the blossom of a red apple tree does not make the blossoms of a yellow apple tree produce red fruit or even fruit streaked with red and yellow. Nor will pollen from the blossom of a crabapple tree introduced into the blossom of a tree that produces big pippins or red astrachans produce smaller fruit.—Detroit News.

Belief in Witches

Belief in witchcraft persists even in London. A sect in the East end regularly brews "dragon's blood" to keep on good terms with witches. Others seek to propitiate the "wise women" by hanging a string of rabbit's teeth above their doorways. One little known London treasure house, the Cumming museum in the Walworth road, contains a display of witches' remedies, all collected from Londoners in the last few years. A spiral shell, one learns, because of its apparently unending nature, guarantees a long life if carried in the pocket; a donkey's shoe covered with cloth and hitched to the bedpost drives away nightmares, while a pig's tooth hanging in a little bag around your neck is a sure guardian against fits.

Physician Defends Alleged Wife Jailor

Philadelphia, July 18 (AP)—A physician came to the defense of the alleged jailors of 68-pound Anna Van Cleve just before they were called before a magistrate today to explain her story of five years spent locked in attics.

Dr. William A. Bennett told of visits the 45-year-old woman made alone to his office and said he believes her tale of imprisonment and starvation is "grossly exaggerated."

"The woman could not have been the prisoner she claims she was," the physician said.

Mrs. Van Cleve, too weak to walk, was taken by police from her home to a hospital where she told physicians she was kept in confinement with crusts to eat because her husband didn't like her cooking.

The husband, William Van Cleve, 54, and his sister, Catherine, 57, appeared before the alderman on charges of false imprisonment. Van Cleve, a window washer, denied his wife's accusations, asserting she had "the run of the house."

Dr. Bennett, who said he treated the woman for a mental disease, add-

Verbal Snapshot Gives Detailed House Action On Summer Afternoon

Washington, July 18 (AP)—A glimpse of the House of Representatives on a hot summer afternoon:

The Time: A ten minute period during which the sun beat through the seals of the 45 states in the leaded-glass roof.

A Democrat who had the floor was trying to make himself heard.

"The House will be in order," Speaker Byrns said, beating a heavy gavel on a block of olive. He twisted the gold rings on each of his third fingers.

"The House, please, will be in order," he said, pounding.

The Democrat continued speaking. Rep. Caroline O'Day of New York fanned herself with a Chinese fan. Rep. Patman of Texas, his hands full of papers, walked into the House, looked about, marched down the center aisle on the blue carpet, and walked out another door. Representative Sabath of Illinois entered the chamber and sat down. A moment later he got up, ate a few peanuts at an entrance, and departed. Soon he returned with a newspaper which he read.

Five Georgia Congressmen sat down on a back row and began to talk and laugh. On the Republican side, Rep. Fish of New York sat on the table used by Representative Snell of New York and began to tear accounts from a newspaper.

A page handed a card to Mrs. Greenway of Arizona, who left the floor. Rep. Rayburn of Texas yawned, stood up, stretched himself and sat down. Mrs. Kahn of California came in and stood in the aisle to talk to Mrs. Rogers of Massachusetts. There was a gardenia pinned on Mrs. Kahn's blue dress. Mrs. Rogers put on horn-rimmed glasses and read through her mail.

Doughton of North Carolina, his glasses resting on his forehead, walked over to where McSwain of South Carolina was sitting and whispered in his ear. Blanton of Texas, chewing gum, spoke to a group and left the chamber.

Delegate Delgado of the Philippines wandered about the rostrum, as though looking for someone. He had on white trousers and a pale pink coat.

Some members had their feet in their seats—the seats are upholstered in black leather, with brass tacks.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 18, 1935

NON-POLITICAL SUMMER

A year ago, when Chancellor Dolfuss was assassinated, there was an immediate drop in the number of tourists coming into Austria. The government has remembered that fact this year and has done something a little unusual to attract hesitant foreign visitors. It has put an official ban on all political speech-making between July 5 and September 15. Oratory with a political sound is now a punishable offense. For nearly two and a half months the country is directed to behave itself and to devote its energies to entertainment of the visitors coming, they hope, from all parts of Europe and America. Music and laughter and good will, things for which Austria has always been noted, are to have the stage all to themselves.

On the whole, Austrians are said to be pleased with the ruling. They prefer the pleasures of social enjoyment to political disturbance. Yet there is an undercurrent of questioning as to whether this summer "gas" may not prove to be permanent. The lid placed over political discussion for the summer may not be lifted in the fall. That would not be so satisfactory. Americans who might be inclined to envy Austria's strictly nonpolitical summer would rather continue politics here unabated even in vacation time than risk losing the right of free discussion.

LOW INTEREST RATES

Banks in New Jersey follow those in New York, reducing their interest rates on savings accounts. Some make a flat rate of two and one-half per cent on deposits regardless of amount. Others pay two and one-half or two per cent on small deposits and as little as one and one-half or one per cent on large ones. This downward movement of interest is proceeding in almost every part of the country, in some degree. It is one of the most significant signs of the time.

The banks can hardly do otherwise, because they cannot lend the money in amounts, or at rates, paying them a normal profit. The only thing that will enable them to raise interest rates again is a stronger demand for loans, for construction, industrial production and investment. That phase may not be far ahead. The dammed-up funds in the banks at such unprofitable returns will be forced into productive use. When that happens, credit inflation will be evident, and there will be the start of another boom.

BEE SIEGES

Again, as in previous summers, there are reports from many places of swarms of honey bees trying to establish domiciles in human homes. They find or make an entrance somewhere in the wall, and then proceed to settle there and go about their business. Once established, they are hard to get rid of.

There might be a certain satisfaction in knowing that a fine store of honey was being deposited right in the house, but it is usually hard to get the honey without tearing down the house. At best, the human residents would have to fight the bees for their treasure. And for some reason or other, few people like to have bees buzzing around the place anyway. One householder who has been pestered in this manner suggests an ingenious way to get rid of the bees if other methods fail. He simply places an electric fan just outside of the place where bees enter and set it running either way, they fly into the fan and in a day or two the whole hive is destroyed.

Hobo Wisdom

Another institution of learning, the New York Hobo College, has been holding commencement exercises. Several diplomas were conferred in President Ralph E. Dalton. In his official address he showed a distinct degree of pessimism. Present relief methods, he declared, are undermining the spirit and method of hobo life. Their style is cramped, their scope is cramped. The once hardy wanderers are turning soft. "They've lost the feel of the road," he says, "since they've been getting home relief. They don't ride the roads like they used to."

Of more interest than hobo sentiment, perhaps, is hobo thought. President Dalton submits this constructive program: "We call for a five-day work and a four-hour day," he says, "and insist on six months' vacation for every man. It's a simple and easy way to end the unemployment problem." We'll have to think it over.

STARCHY FOODS

The average adult individual who doesn't work hard physically is supposed to divide his food intake into 1 part proteins—meat and eggs, fish, cereals; 2 parts—butter, cream, fat, meats, yolk of eggs; and 4 parts starches—sugar, bread, potatoes and leafy vegetables and fruits.

There was a time when it was believed that too much meat was eaten and so starch foods became popular.

Now starch foods are justly popular because they furnish the daily energy so necessary for the body processes themselves and for the active work or play that the body must do.

However when it comes to the actual digestion of these starch foods a small amount is done in the mouth by the mouth digestive juice which helps prepare it to pass through the stomach unchanged; the starch food then goes down to the stomach where it waits without any digestive action taking place until it gets out of the stomach and into the small intestine where it is met by the juice from the pancreatic gland and is converted into sugar. In the form of sugar it can be readily absorbed by the blood and stored in the liver and muscles.

If little or no chewing is done in the mouth then not enough preparatory digestion is done and the starches enter the stomach in an "unprepared" condition.

The starches then pass into the small intestine and the pancreatic juice is unable to do a "complete" job on them with the result that there is gas pressure, "gurgling" of gas, and both the stomach and small intestine are distended by gas.

When some of this starch food reaches the large intestine it has been found that it is practically in a raw undigested state with some of the coverings of the starch granules still unbroken. In the large intestine are organisms which break up this covering and the raw starch granules causes further gas formation. This is why cooking makes starch foods more digestible as it breaks down this outer covering of the starch granule.

The thought then is that starch foods—bread, potatoes, sugar—are good foods and needed by the body to supply energy and store food for future use. But if we fail to chew the starch foods, eat too rapidly, eat large meals when we are tired, hot, worried, or anxious, we can expect gas pressure in the stomach and small and large intestine, with all the discomfort which gas pressure causes.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Rex and Laurie Moore were pretending to be married, so that Rex might hold his job with Laurie's employer, Mark Adams. But now Rex has returned from a daring flight over Africa, and quite suddenly each realizes that he loves the other. The difficulty is that neither can bring himself to tell the truth, and that Rex knows Laurie is in love with Laurie. Laurie is giving a luncheon party.

Chapter 26

MRS. STEELE TALKS

As a matter of fact, Laurie was just right, a young woman out of thousands in the business world, who suddenly found herself in the reflected limelight of a famous husband, and took her place quietly and with a natural diffidence that was very charming.

Mrs. Steele and Mark Albery sat together in a corner of the living room after luncheon, smoking and drinking their coffee. They had been neighbors at luncheon, and Albery paid the elegant, sophisticated woman the compliment of devoting his attention almost completely to her. There seemed to be a link between them from the moment they met.

Now, Wanda was speaking of their hostess. They were practically alone. Most of the other guests were still in the dining-room, where Rex Moore had been reluctantly persuaded to give some account of his recent experiences in the African jungle.

"I think Mrs. Moore is a dear little thing," she said. "I've never heard of anything so romantic as that she should have been working for you all this time, Mr. Albery. And now she is your private secretary! She must be very clever."

"Mrs. Moore has an excellent brain," he replied. "I feel sure she would succeed in anything she undertook."

But he did not seem anxious to talk about his hostess, which Wanda Steele did not fail to notice, as she looked at him under her heavy, lowered lids. It was of Rex Moore he wanted to talk to the woman who had rescued him from death.

"I am more than interested to meet you," he told her when they were introduced. "Moore has told me that he owes his life and his eyesight to you." Now he returned to the subject. "One can get so little out of Moore, Mrs. Steele. He simply hates to talk about himself. But I suppose he had a very bad time."

"The doctors said it was a miracle he lived," Mr. Albery. For a long time we didn't know ourselves who he really was. But it was his blindness that made him seem as if he hated the whole world. My husband and I did all we could. But, as you say, he simply can't talk about himself. Think of it, he never told us even that he had a wife, not when he first recovered consciousness, or afterwards, all the time he was with us in California."

"He was always a curious chap," said Albery. At the time, this secrecy as to his domestic life on Moore's part did not impress him particularly. His thoughts were more taken up with a discovery he had made. Mrs. Steele was in love with Rex Moore. Her husband was dead. And if she could, she was going to make trouble between the airman and his wife.

BEFORE he left, he made another discovery. Or, at least, he knew for certain a fact that had been open to doubt before.

He caught Laurie looking at her husband from outside the little group that surrounded him. He saw something he had never seen before in her face. She was unaware of anyone else in the room. Her defenses were down. A moment of emotional crisis held her in thrall. Her eyes were shining; on her lips was a little trembling smile of infinite sweetness and pathos.

Albery knew once and for all. Laurie Moore loved her husband, whether she was unhappy or not. And, beneath his impassive mask, as he bade the airman good-bye, his jealousy passed the first milestones on the road to madness.

Gladys had not attended the luncheon party. She had gone off quite early, looking like a flower-petals in a shower of rain. With a little crocheted woolen coat, like a baby's, the very latest summer gadget, and a drooping hat with peach-colored velvet ribbons. She was spending the day, she said, with the family of her best girl friend in the troops who lived in Streamham.

She came in later than usual, and old Kestor, and son, Donald, of Tabasco spent Saturday in Kingston.

Mrs. Emily Van Ethen is spending an indefinite period with her sister, Mrs. Phoebe Krom.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stokes and children of Accord spent last Friday and Saturday with the latter's sister, Mrs. Florence Wynkoop, of Tabasco.

Jacob DeWitt of Accord and Montezuma DeWitt of Woodstock called on their father, Henry S. DeWitt, at "Pine Grove Camp" Sunday.

Friends are sorry to learn that Ann Wynkoop, who was at the Brookline Hospital receiving treatment, had to undergo a serious operation before her health was improved. It is hoped the operation will be successful and that she will soon be out with her friends again.

The disappointedness is the latest thing non-ruminating even-aged Hammett and his sister, Mrs. Mar-

Politics at Random

OF ALL the political snarls which have been born of depression and recovery—and they are many—the present tax tangle in congress probably is the strongest and most puzzling.

Taxation always is a prime political issue. It touches the individual as few other issues do. It constitutes a perennial cause for strife between the parties, whose conflicting viewpoints have been quite dissimilar.

Yet here is a congress which is overwhelmingly Democratic, and in which the small Republican minority is badly split, floundering in bewilderment as it tries to translate into law the tax recommendations of a Democratic President.

If anyone had predicted such a situation a month ago, he would have been set down as a thoroughly unreliable prophet. How could it possibly have come about? A review of the facts may answer the question in part.

A Need For Action

AN INTERESTING sequence of events began with the blow to administration prestige struck by the supreme court in the NRA decision.

Following it, a sense of stalemate, almost of stagnation, settled over Washington. There was talk among administration men of the need for some swift counter blow to renew the "new deal" psychology of forward motion.

Into that situation fell Mr. Roosevelt's unheralded message asking for higher taxes on wealth. Who advised him to send such a message remains a mystery, but it was not avoid further complications by taking the new levies onto the excise tax resolution, and so dispose of the whole matter quickly. That, however, didn't work at all. The time was far too short. So work began on a new bill.

By BYRON PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

G. O. P. Seized Opportunity

THEREUPON the Republican regulars saw an opportunity. In their turn, they put a proposition to the White House: If we are to have a tax revision, why not have a real one, and balance the budget?

The White House approached this development cautiously. A general tax increase—and that would be needed to balance the budget—never has been desired by any administration facing reelection.

It was disclosed that the President hoped the bill would be confined to the levies he had recommended, but when the treasury was asked for specific recommendations as to rates, it replied that that was up to congress.

So the weary Democratic leaders resigned themselves to battling or gauged business—by this time thoroughly aroused—the Republicans, and a host of other opponents; trying to hold in line a rank and file which was but recently in revolt, and put through a project which Capitol Hill never asked for in the beginning.

It is a most unusual sequence of events. What the future chapters will develop is unknown at this moment to anyone.

NEW PALTZ

New Palitz, July 18.—Mrs. Elsie Snyder, who has been spending two weeks with her son, Kenneth Snyder, and family, left Tuesday afternoon to spend several weeks with her brother in Catskill.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Lyons and her mother, Mrs. Daisy Tamney, of Rhinebeck, and Mr. and Mrs. Abel Quick enjoyed a trip over the Rip Van Winkle Bridge to Hudson on Sunday and went on to Connecticut where they had supper.

The Rev. Gerret Wulfschlegel preached on the subject, "The Power of the Church," at the service in the Reformed Church Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Abel Quick spent Wednesday and Thursday of last week in Kingston. On Thursday Mrs. Quick visited Mrs. Mary Christiansa.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fish and Miss Dorothy Fish, who have been visiting relatives in this vicinity, have returned to Bridgeport, Conn.

Cav. and Mme. Carlo Polifeme have been spending several days at their home in Montecore near New Palitz.

Mr. and Mrs. Abel Quick spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Osterhout at Accord.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Savago have a number of boarders at their home Irving Freer of Newburgh called on William Vanderlyn last Friday.

Mrs. Mary Wood spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clearwater and family on Trico avenue.

Mrs. Ralph LeFevre and Mrs. Jennie Snyder of Rosendale called on Mrs. Abel Quick Monday afternoon.

Kenneth Snyder, Jr., left on Tuesday for a vacation in a Y. M. C. A. camp.

The fire company was called out Monday noon to the home of Mrs. Cora Lawrence. The fire started by a painter burning the paint from the house. The damage was very slight.

Miss Ellen Eddy Shaw, a former member of the Normal faculty, has been chosen delegate to represent the Brooklyn Botanical Garden at the Sixth International Botanical Congress at Amsterdam, Holland.

Miss Shaw has given lectures in this locality sponsored by the Study Club. Through July and August she will visit famous gardens in France and Italy and will lecture about her trip on her return to this country.

Mrs. Paul Smith, Miss Jane McHugh, Miss Catherine Cumisky, John McHugh and Mrs. John Lucy enjoyed a trip to Garrison on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Deyo entertained guests at a party at their home on Excelsior avenue Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Avery and little daughter, Florence, and a party of friends of Newburgh called on her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Clearwater, Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Mary E. Kniffen was also a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clearwater.

NETTACHONTS.

Mettrachonts, July 15.—The Rev. and Mrs. Ben Scholten and daughter have returned to the parsonage after enjoying a month's vacation.

Mrs. August Eitzen of Poughkeepsie spent Wednesday with her mother, Mrs. Mary Osterhout.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Kelder and daughters of Millwood, and Robert Kelder of New York spent Saturday evening and Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kelder, and called at the Kingston Hospital to see Franklin Kelder.

Relatives and friends of Franklin Kelder, who underwent an operation at the Kingston Hospital the past week, are all glad to hear he is improving.

Mrs. John Foster of Brookline, with relatives and friends, is spending two weeks at her summer home in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Abel Quick of New Palitz spent Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Osterhout.

Henry Krom and some are picking blueberries.

Leon Stravinsky revised the score of "Petrouchka" last winter while in New York, making corrections and initiating them on Joe Curbie's score.

Talks to Parents

Pass-Me-Downs

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH

It is hard to be the youngest of a large family and wear only clothes that were planned and made for someone else. Some children in such a position grow bitter and discontented under the necessity of always wearing hand-downs from some older member of the family.

If mothers would use a little more understanding and tact much of the hard feeling might be eliminated. Passing on outgrown clothes to the next in size whether brother or sister or cousin or even family friend is often necessary. It need not, however, be done in such a way as to cause shame and humiliation to the recipient.

If it is a question of brothers and sisters care should be taken in choosing the dress for its original wearer to see that it will be becoming to the next also. No matter how well the older child may look in vivid and odd colors, the second child should not be forced to wear them unless they are becoming to her also. If clothes must be worn a long time and by different people they should not in any event, be conspicuous.

If the clothes come from outside the immediate family they should, if possible, be altered, and in any event cleaned and pressed so that they look new and feel fresh. And here again the fact that they are too good to throw away should not be allowed to weigh too heavily in the balance if they are unbecoming to the next in line. Some change can generally be made if it is only to dip the garments in a cheap dye.

Unless the family finances absolutely forbid it, no child should be forced to wear other people's clothes exclusively. No matter how full its wardrobe may be of perfectly good second-hand wearing apparel, it should be given the satisfaction every so often of having a new dress of its very own.

It is said the government wants to give the farmer the buying power he had in the pre-war period, from 1900 to 1914. But that won't be near enough. In those days he didn't have to buy automobiles or gasoline and radios nor even dreamed of.

Sundown Stories

Rip Is Found

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

"I WANT to drive over to talk to your Uncle Norman about our camping trip," a father said to his son Bert. "Will you come along?"

"Sure," Bert answered.

As they were driving out of the town to go to Uncle Norman's place Bert said:

"Dad, did you see that advertisement about the dog that is lost? I wish I could find that dog. The advertisement read as though he must be a real pet. They sounded so fond of him."

"Yes, I read it. I hope they get him back. Surely some one will see the dog unless he's kept a prisoner, and if he's a friendly, nice dog there's no point in that. No point in it anyway."

The father went on to talk about plans he had for the camping trip when suddenly Bert cried out:

"Look, Dad, down by those tracks there's a brown dog. Let me see if he can be Rip."

The father stopped the car and the boy ran across a small field to the place where he had seen the dog.

"Rip? Are you Rip?" Bert exclaimed.

Rip had tried to hobble away on his three legs. He had been having a hard time traveling with a sore paw and had had to stop every little while.

When Rip heard his name he knew that something had happened so that people who knew and understood were looking for him.

He wagged his tail and barked in such a way that the boy knew he must be Rip. They're advertised for you, Rip!"

A Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—Capitol Hill gossip has it that the real reason proponents of the "death sentence" section of the utility holding company bill agreed to the house rules committee conducting the inquiry into "lobbying" was that the senate could do a better job.

The senate previously had served notice, by Senator Wheeler of Montana, co-author of the bill, that whatever the house might decide to do in the way of investigating the "lobby" it would look into the proposition itself.

Ever since the days of Senator Walsh of Montana and his Teapot Dome investigation, the house has been a way of saying, "When the senate sticks its teeth into a thing, something likely will happen."

And many think "something likely will happen" when the senate, acting under authority granted it by the Black revolution and with its own at its disposal, starts investigating the activities for and against the holding company bill.

Much information can be gathered with that amount of money as speed, especially when there's a will to spend it.

The "Real Reason"

THOSE on the inside however, say the real reason the house, after beating the charges of Representative Brewster of Maine that he had been threatened with withdrawal of a long-awaited work relief project in his district if he didn't vote

Many Plan to Attend Boy Scout Jamboree

As time draws near for the great international jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America many parents and friends of the boys and Scouting are planning to attend.

It was announced today from the office of the Ulster-Greene Council that all parents and friends who desire to secure the special railroad rate of a fare and a third for the round trip, would send such notice at once to the Scout Council office, 277 Fair street, Kingston, as it will be necessary to secure credentials for this special rate.

One of the features at Camp Half Moon, the Boy Scout summer camp, this year is the semi-weekly newspaper entitled "Camp Half Moon Beam". This paper is having a wide circulation in the camp and the editorial staff is: Editor-in-chief, Bob Connolly; sports editor, John De-

Nike; water-front, Jack Wilkie; nature and hand craft, Bob Beatty; Indian news, Dick Dumm; ranger news, H. Hornbeck; pioneer news, Bob Connolly; sport artists, Bob Beatty, Bud Loughran; staff advisors, Frank Branley, Ed Doolan. One of the most interesting features of the great world fair of Scouting which takes place this coming August will be the publication each day of the Jamboree Journal which will be an early morning paper of from 16 to 32 pages, and with the exception of a very few daily papers in America it will be the largest publication and having a circulation of some 50,000 copies at least. Several members of the Ulster-Greene Scout delegation are being selected to assist in this and it is expected that the daily copies of this paper will find its way back to the many local communities represented.

Events Around The Empire State

(By The Associated Press)

Endicott, N. Y., July 18 (AP).—Miss Margaret L. Crain, of East Aurora, "other girl" in the "American tragedy" slaying of Frieda McKechnie at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., for which Robert Lee Edwards went to the electric chair, has been reappointed supervisor of music in Endicott public schools. Her appointment was announced late yesterday.

Elmira, N. Y., July 18 (AP).—There was a man who had a wooden leg. . . . Then along came the flood and a subsequent appeal to the Red Cross for aid.

The flood not only ruined his wooden leg—it shrank—but carried away his stock of "limb limbers" which he sold to make a living. An appeal to the Red Cross brought the promise of a new leg and more besides to replenish the stock swept away in the flood waters.

Jamestown, N. Y., July 18 (AP).—A short business session and an inspection of the shops and equipment of the Chautauque county highway department claimed the attention today of members of the New York State Association of Highway Superintendents meeting here in summer convention.

There will be another business get-together tomorrow and a tour of the county system of highways and bridges. The convention closes tomorrow night.

Albany, N. Y., July 18 (AP).—Governor Herbert H. Lehman last night announced the following administrative appointments:

Henry T. Hackett, Poughkeepsie, trustee of the supreme court library at Poughkeepsie.

Humphrey J. Lynch, White Plains, trustee of the supreme court library at White Plains.

Middletown, N. Y., July 18 (AP).—State police and sheriff's deputies dragged Tannanah Lake near here today for the bodies of two fishermen believed to have drowned.

An empty boat, oars missing, a floating bait can and tobacco pouch were the only clues.

Harry Kaiser, 40, and Al Misner, 60, both lakeside residents, borrowed the boat for a fishing trip and have not been seen since.

MEET the WIFE

Mrs. Alf M. Landon, handsome, plain, "folky" wife of Kansas governor for two terms. . . . Helps husband preserve favorite old hats and old shoes. . . . Collects scenic Westward Ho glass, luster ware, antique furniture, pottery, brass and copper pieces. . . . Studied harp and piano abroad. . . . finds it hard to keep "callouses" for harp playing and care for John Cobb Landon, 2, and Nancy Jo, 3, both of whom arrived after Landon became a candidate. . . . Neighbors say as governor's wife "she takes it easier than any in the Kansas mansion we've ever seen." . . . Likes to broil steaks for company, to hunt for old furniture in second hand stores. . . . Reads the newspapers and likes musical talkies.

KERHONKSON HEIGHTS.

Kerhonkson Heights, July 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Osterhout of Hurleyville and son, Richard, and Mr. and Mrs. John Hannigan of New York city were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Mains on Sunday.

Richard Bullock is assisting A. Myers with his harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Haver of Shokan were visitors in this place on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Deput were in Pine Bush, Orange county on Sunday.

Calvin Davis of Kripplush is busy painting J. C. Deput's house.

Mrs. Martha C. Greene spent the weekend at the home of her sister Mrs. Blanche Wilklow of Whitefield.

During the severe electrical shower of July 7 Mrs. Blanche Wilklow of Whitefield had four cows killed out in the field.

Joseph Christians of Lyonsville, called on his sister, Mrs. George Osterhout on Monday.

Ellenville Man Inherits

New York, July 17 (Special).—Nora Glusker of Ellenville receives a seventh of the estate left by Fannie Glusker, late of Brooklyn, under the terms of a will filed for probate in Kings County Surrogate's Court. Mrs. Glusker, who died July 8, left an estate of approximately $10,000. The estate, divided in seven parts, is distributed among relatives. Two bequests in the will total $200.

ESOPUS

Esopus, July 18.—Mrs. Gertrude Roosa and daughter of New Paltz called on Mr. and Mrs. Alec Smith on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Wright and daughter, Dorothy, of New York city, are spending two weeks here at the home of Mrs. John Gansoung. Ruth Martin is spending part of her vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Bonner, at Cliffside, N. J.

Miss Elizabeth Dunn and friend spent Sunday here, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rothery.

Mr. and Mrs. Eversol, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and Miss Mildred Baker, all of Jersey City, spent Sunday here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alec Smith.

Mrs. Leslie Mott has returned to her home here, after an illness in the Benedictine Hospital.

Airship experts from all over will meet at Akron, Ohio, July 25-26 to take part in a lighter-than-air craft forum, the first of its kind to be held in America. The purpose of the conference is to review the present status of lighter-than-air from the engineering and scientific viewpoint.

'Little Helen Richey,' Airline Pilot, Flies Ship That Could Swallow Her

Washington (AP)—Helen Richey's great-grandmother would be shocked, no doubt, to see her 25-year-old great-granddaughter finish a day's work.

She brings a huge trimotor plane, on the Washington-Detroit run, down onto the Washington airport, taxis to the hangar, turns off the switch, and looks at her wrist-watch. It says 3:50—and that's "a. m.," the dark morning hour.

"Little Helen Richey," all five feet, four inches of her, is a pilot who has stepped into the front ranks. She is the nation's first woman to fly the mails, and the first woman to hold a regular flying job with an air line.

Holds Endurance Record

A uniform goes with the job—slacks, a trim military coat and an overseas cap. A few feet away she looks like "one of the boys." But she is such a trim little figure the trimotor she flies could swallow her at one bite, or so it looks when she climbs into her "job."

Her slight figure is misleading. She turns her wide, calm, gray eyes on a person, and it's easy to see why the Pittsburgh air line officials said one day "Report to Washington. You're on the payroll."

She established the women's endurance flight record in December, 1933, with Frances Marsalis. They were up 237 hours and 45 minutes. The record still stands.

She half frowns at the record, and contemptuously brushes one of her brown curls off her high forehead.
"That was just a grind," she says. "But then I believe in that sort of flying. It proves aviation. My getting this job was constructive, not sensational. It makes it easier for other women fliers."

Just Routine

"Flying isn't physically tiring. You just have to know your air and navigation. We follow the radio beam all the way. We get frequent weather reports. There's no guess work. If fog settles over our next stop, we fly on or return. Our tank carries enough gas. Doesn't it sound routine?" It is.

But the young lady's eyes shine as she talks about this routine. Flying is the only thing she ever wanted to do. Her father, who is superintendent of schools of McKeesport, Pa., believed in her. He paid for her flying lessons and bought her first plane, an open biplane.

Then she just stayed in the air until people began to know her name, and she knew the air backwards and forwards. But she never did stunts. She went to air races, but she never tore around pylons in a speed dash. She is more eager to prove aviation is safe than to prove that Helen Richey is "some shakes." She stays on the conservative side.

Mrs. J. D. Rose Heads Board of Trustees

Highland, July 18.—Mrs. Jesse D. Rose was re-elected president of the Board of Trustees at the centralized school district at the organization meeting held at the schoolhouse Tuesday evening. A. W. Lent was re-elected clerk; Lorin E. Osterhout, re-elected treasurer; Thomas Hopper re-elected collector, and appointed were Charles Perkins again for trustee officer and transportation of supervisors for the outlying schools; Richard D. Burton for taking of the census; Dr. Helen McLean Thompson and Dr. Carl F. Meekin as medical supervision for the schools.

The repairs made necessary by recommendation and necessity were the plumbing and furnace with C. I. Richards, A. W. Lent and Mrs. J. D. Rose to supervise them; the redecorating of the assembly room is under Mrs. Rose's direction, the new iron stairway in the main building will have to be estimated upon by contractors before bids are let for it. At the Elting's corner and Centerville schools necessary repairs will be directed by Philip T. Schantz; the new iron fence at the Vineyard avenue school is under supervision of C. I. Richards and P. T. Schantz and the improvements at Oak and Riverside schools will be taken care of by W. H. Maynard and P. T. Schantz. The P. T. A. playground and the tennis courts will be resurfaced, the latter will be done by George Hudson with soft clay under the direction of Mr. Kerr, TERA representative.

Contracts were to be sent to Miss Lombard for the position of musical supervisor. She is from Croton and has had three and a half years experience, also Miss Gertrude Cook of Kingston for the position of history teacher. Miss Ruth E. Goldsmith of Ellenville is to be the new home-making teacher and Miss Frances Williams of Williams Lake has been engaged for commercial teacher. She has been teaching in Ravens. This fills the vacancies for next year. All members of the board were present.

Jailed By Nazis

HOW ONE MAN LOST 25 POUNDS

John Lethaby of Portland, Ore., writes: "I have known Kruschen Salts for years in England, Africa, Brazil. I weighed 190, chest 40, waist 42. After 8 weeks with Kruschen salt 165, chest 42, waist 38. It gives me pep and vigor and has kept me young."

To lose fat SAFELY and quickly take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—cut down on fatty meats, butter, cream and rich pastries.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen—the salt for a bottle that lasts four weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back. All good druggists will be glad to supply you.—Ad.

4 Persons Killed

Pasco, Wash., July 18 (AP)—The engineer and at least three transients were killed on a head-on collision of a Northern Pacific passenger train and a freight 24 miles from here on the Walla Walla branch near midnight. The dead engineer is Stanley Cowan of Pasco. The identity of other victims could not be immediately determined.

Seventh Victim

Belfast, Northern Ireland, July 18 (AP)—The disorders arising from Orangemen's celebration of the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne claimed a seventh victim today with the death from a sniper's shot of James Andrews. The charred ruins of 15 houses burned during the night were guarded against looters by 150 special officers.

Indian Operetta At "Y" Camp Monday

Camp Presmaker began its third week of its camping season yesterday with activities in full swing. Ball games are still a major feature with most of the campers, with the camp undefeated as yet either in baseball or playground ball. Ball games are not limited to game with other camps or outside organizations. The camp has a league of its own with every camper on a team. In league games played thus far Rowland's team has defeated Fulmer; Taylor's team defeated Coaches and Van Valkenburgh's team has defeated Rowlands.

Rehearsals are being held daily for the camp's operetta, "At the End of the Warpath", which will be presented Monday evening. The play will be presented in three acts, acts one and three being principally for the senior chorus of warriors, while act two is presented entirely by the junior chorus and actors. The performance will be held in the camp lodge and the public is cordially invited.

Craft work is popular with the boys many of them making belts, pocketbooks, bookends, moccasins, rustic foot stools, things out of old tin cans, etc. In addition, a number of the campers have been working with Coach Kias in making a real Indian tepee. The cutting out of the canvas and the sewing has been nearly completed and those working on the project expect to have the tent up in a day or two.

Wednesday night was the time of the official visit of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. and the Kingston Triangle Club. The visitors had supper at the camp, played the boys in playground ball and attended the evening's campfire. The closing feature of the campfire program was a spooky story by Mr. Schoonmaker, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

New campers for the third week are: Albert Salzman, Louis Salzman, LeGrand Gue, Harry Flowers, Robert Flicker, George Clinton, John Divine, James Divine, Kenneth Snyder, Robert Simpkins and George Stork.

The Shedd Aquarium at Chicago has received an interesting supply from Hawaii of what are termed "peppy" fish. Most fish we know are peppy, especially when they start out in the evening to make a night of it.

Leslie Stone, bank teller (left), was forced to give the bandit $500. (Associated Press Photos)

Several More Slot Machine Arrests

District Attorney Cleon E. Murray's campaign to rid Ulster county of slot machines which pay money to lucky ones received a boost Wednesday when State Troopers made several arrests. For some time the gambling type of slot machine has been absent in the county but recently there was an attempt to install them in various sections of the county. Sportsmen machines which paid nothing and which were played to satisfy the players' sporting desire have been common for some time but the prohibited gambling machines are creeping in. It is the determination of the district attorney to clear up this type of illegal machine.

Recently orders were issued to police officials to make arrests where the prohibited machines were found and thus far the campaign has resulted in several arrests.

Wednesday John Louis and James Ferguson of the town of Shawangunk were arrested by Troopers Baker and Klein on charges of having machines which paid back money through slots. On being arraigned before Justice of the Peace Lippincott they were fined $25 each.

Troopers Reilly and Metzer arrested Joseph Tappa of the Mohawk Restaurant on the Saugerties road for having one of the horse racing machines. Arraigned before Justice Bennett of the town of Saugerties a fine of $25 was imposed.

Nazi Jew Baiters Persist in Campaign

Berlin, July 18 (AP)—Nazi Jew-baiters persisted in their anti-Semitic campaign today, dropping more violent methods by government orders but turning to the written word to demand death to Jews for various associations with Aryans.

The newspaper "Judenkenner," which rivals the "Sturmer" in anti-Semitic activities, advocated the death penalty for Jews guilty of intimacy with Aryan women.

The Nazi party's syndicate service, in an article in the "National Sozialistische Partei Korrespondenz," demanded that Jews be forbidden to rent apartments to Aryans, engage Aryan domestic help or accept Aryan clients, under pain of death if necessary.

A post-card depicting an Aryan girl standing in a gutter with a Jewish couple and surrounded by Storm Troopers was shown in a conspicuous place, with a placard around the girl's neck bearing this rhyme:

"A swine am I, the town about
"With Jews alone do I go out."

Printed in large type below the picture was a warning to passersby on a main thoroughfare to the Potsdamer Platz:

"Do you want to be photographed like that?"

HELD FOR GRAND JURY
ACTION ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Russell Carson, 35, of Newburgh, who was arrested last week on a rape charge and who was admitted to bail on Sunday pending arraignment before a justice, had a hearing before Justice of the Peace Rusk of Marlborough Wednesday and was returned to jail to await the action of the grand jury on a first degree rape charge. Bail will be fixed by County Judge Frederick G. Traver.

On The Radio Day By Day

C. G. BUTTERFIELD

Time is Eastern Daylight.

New York, July 18 (AP).—William Garlanti, 21-year-old young man on the NBC staff, has assimilated so much of the atmosphere that he has turned his spare time attention to radio play writing. The result is a comedy of old New England which he calls "Stovers vs. Anti-Stovers." WEAF-NBC has just agreed to produce it on the air, the date being the night of August 5.

It now develops that Morton Downey, besides the key station broadcast on WABC, also will have one on WEAF. Ethel Meriman's last CBS broadcast in her current series is July 28, when this program will go off until the return of Eddie Cantor in September.

Circuit Court Upholds Roosevelt TVA Work

New Orleans, July 18 (AP).—President Roosevelt's vast social experiment—the sale of cheap electric power by the Tennessee Valley authority—was held constitutional by the Circuit Court of Appeals here but is still to be tested in the United States Supreme Court.

Joseph F. Johnston, one of the attorneys representing preferred stockholders of the Alabama Power Company, who contested the validity of the TVA, said at Birmingham, Ala., an appeal would be taken promptly and probably heard by the Supreme Court in the fall.

The opinion rendered yesterday, affecting electric utility holders, consumers and prospective consumers, reversed a finding by Judge W. L. Grubb of the Northern District Court of Alabama, who ruled Congress did not have the right to authorize sale of the power, and "TVA was enacted in illegal competition with the Alabama Power Company."

The Circuit Court here, conceding that the project was launched primarily as a power supply for manufacture of munitions in war time, asserted it was within the "province of Congress to adopt any reasonable means" to dispose of surplus power not needed in peace time.

Reliant citizens of Sheffield, Tusculum, Florence and Rueda Shoals, Ala., where the vast dams for power production are located, showed their approval in spontaneous demonstrations.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS &amp; SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—in an earlier talkie day the song-writers looked at a movie and wrote a "theme song" for it. The resulting harmonies usually were hits, too. The songs were titled after the movies, and people who had seen the movies would remember the titles, and thus find it simpler to remember the tunes. Some of these songs even had some connection with the theme of the picture.

Today (just to show how far the screen has progressed) the movies are getting even. They are turning around and making pictures out of song titles.

It is a thing that can go on and on. When Crosby in one of his films sang a number called "Love in Bloom." They made a picture of that title, and in it Grace Allen sang a song called "Here Comes Cookie." Now Grace and George Burns are making "Here Comes Cookie," and who knows what song in this will supply the title for another picture? It's better than a chain letter.

The Game Goes On

"Sweet Adeline" was a popular song long before Irene Dunne made a movie of it and "All of Me" was a song in no way connected with the play "Chrysalis" which borrowed its title for the screen. After great uncertainty, W. C. Fields' latest picture also has found a musical title. "The Man on the Flying Trapeze." As might be expected, it has nothing whatever to do with the story—which does not keep it from being a good title.

Lily's Only Pet

Lily Pons of opera fame came to Hollywood with no pet wilder than a Skye terrier. Her precious jaguar—which used to get almost as much space in stories about Lily Pons as Lily got—is now in a New York Zoo. There, she insists, the critter invariably recognizes her when she visits. The parting between them, says Lily in her coloratura French accent, was due to no breach between mistress and pet, but to the pet's clawing of Lily's maid, who somehow resented it.

Miss Pons expresses enthusiasm for her first movie, in which she will sing several operatic arias, including the Lakme "bell song," as well as new melodies.

King Crosby's would seem to be the perfect movie philosophy. He never worries about his acting—because he doesn't pretend to be an actor. And his singing doesn't bother him, because he doesn't pretend to be a great singer.

Seeks Freedom

D. C. Stephenson, former Indiana Ku Klux Klan chief, is shown in court at Laporte, Ind., as he launched a fight to regain his freedom. He is serving a life sentence for murder. The court ordered him to file an amended plea. (Associated Press Photo)

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "Vagabond Lady." Out of the current comedy crop, this talkie rises over all and becomes a standard picture, filled with gaiety, laughter and fun. And Robert Young finds himself after a series of trite roles to score an amazing triumph as the scapegrace member of a dignified family. This family, so filled with dignity and formality that it practically squeaks when in action, gets a rude shock when Robert Young gets into action. Most of the fun occurs when an older brother asks Robert to show his fiancée the finer things of life. Robert obliges with the zest of a zephyr. Due to the fine directing of Sam Taylor, the show is lacking in a single dull moment and Reginald Denny, Evelyn Venable and Frank Craven are seen to advantage in important assignments. Good hot weather entertainment.

Orpheum: "Menace" and "The Awakening of Jim Burke." Gertrude Michael, Paul Cavanaugh and Berton Churchill are the principals in the first production, a mystery drama that starts slowly, picks up speed as it trudges along, and breaks into some fancy sprinting toward the close. "The Awakening of Jim Burke" is a human interest talkie about a father who does not understand his son. The boy is interested in music while the father is interested in fast fights and being a tough guy. Misfortune brings them together and all is happiness at the play's conclusion. Jack Holt, Florence Rice and Katherine Burke head the cast.

Kingston: "Casino Murder Case" and "Ladies Love Danger." Philo Vance, the name of detectives, moves with suave grace through the mystery and death of the opening feature at the Kingston. And S. S. Van Dine's fiction hero has a tough assignment in this picture, for all the luck seems to go against him, and he finds it pretty difficult to tack the blame on any one person. But by cautious deduction he manages to uncover the murderer without so much as musing his hair. Paul Lukas makes an engaging Philo Vance and a fine supporting group includes Allison Skipworth, Rosalind Russell, Hardie Albright, Ted Healy, Donald Cook and Isabel Jewell. "Ladies Love Danger" is an above average murder mystery with a lot of comedy thrown in to even things up. Mona Barrie and Gilbert Roland head the cast.

Tomorrow

Broadway: Same. Orpheum: "Hell's Angels." The greatest of the motion pictures depicting the war in the air during the late mass murder known as the World War is seen on the Orpheum screen in this Howard Hughes production. Although old enough to be a grand daddy to the present day talkie, the play has everything to make it worth seeing all over again. It tells of a British aviator who died in a German prison camp shortly before the Armistice. This was the picture where Jean Harlow's classic beauty bought her up the first rung of the ladder to cinematic greatness. Kingston: "Dinky" and "The Revenge Rider." Jackie Cooper scores a hit in the opening attraction at the Kingston theatre as the youngster who is shipped off to an orphanage when his mother is unjustly sent to prison. The show is filled with pathos, tear bringing situations and some grand comedy moments. Supporting young Mr. Cooper is Mary Astor, Roger Pryor and Henry Armetta. "The Revenge Rider" is Tim McCoy's latest action venture, a fast moving western yarn that moves along to the speed of flying hoofs and barking guns. The youngsters will especially enjoy this one and most of the grownups will, too, for that matter.

An Ordinance amending and supplementing an ordinance entitled "An Ordinance regulating the parking of vehicles in streets," passed May 5th, 1931.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Common Council of the City of Kingston as follows:

Section 1. Section 2 of an ordinance entitled "An Ordinance regulating the parking of vehicles in streets," passed May 5th, 1931, as subsequently amended, hereby is amended and supplemented to read as follows:

15. On the westerly side of East Chester St. from the intersection of the westerly curb line of East Chester St. and the southerly curb line of Broadway to a point on the westerly curb line of East Chester St. distant 2200 feet from said intersection of Broadway and East Chester St.

Section 2. This ordinance shall be published twice in each of the official newspapers of said City, and shall take effect immediately after such publication.

Transmitted by the City Clerk to the Mayor July 14th, 1935.

E. J. DEMPSEY, City Clerk.

Approved by the Mayor March 14th, 1935.

Buster Keaton's Wife Sues for a Divorce

Los Angeles, July 18 (AP).—The aging but still agile figure of Buster Keaton bounced today into the already multi-tangled domestic affairs of the wealthy Sewell family of Beverly Hills.

Mrs. Mae Elizabeth Keaton added the name of her comedian-husband to several others in the Sewell affair when she unexpectedly filed suit yesterday for divorce and brought a $200,000 event balm suit against Mrs. Leah Clamptt Sewell for allegedly stealing her mate's love.

"Ridiculous," retorted Mrs. Sewell as she sat in a superior courtroom listening to arguments in her own marital litigation against her millionaire husband, Barton W. Sewell.

Mrs. Keaton's petition charged that she found her fun-making husband and Mrs. Sewell together in a

Santa Barbara county hotel last July 4, and that they remained there for three days before returning here. Sewell has established residence in Las Vegas, Nev., and started divorce proceedings there against Mrs. Sewell.

Makes House Paint Peel

The national bureau of standards says that, in general, peeling of paint is due to moisture and absence of sunlight; such things as leaky gutters, nearby shade trees, damp foundations, etc., cause continuous moisture, and this gets in under the paint film and lifts it off. Another common cause of paint peeling is faulty priming. It is of great importance to have the oil in the priming coat sink deeply into the wood to get a strong foundation for succeeding coats. Two other common causes are applying the paint too thickly, and not using pure materials (especially the raw linseed oil). All paint that is peeling must be removed before attempting to repaint.

The farm credit administration, passing on thousands of loans to agriculturists, follows substantially the geographic division made in 1916 by the old federal farm loan board.

Incidentally, the old federal reserve districts, created in 1914 after long hearings, have remained about as they were outlined at the start, only a few slight alterations having been made.

Once it was a mark of wealth to occupy a penthouse in New York—now tenants want them so they can have a "garden."

WATCH KIDNEYS SAME AS BOWELS

Wash Out Your 75,000 Feet of Kidney Tubes

Your bowels contain only 21 feet of intestine, yet the kidneys contain nearly 10 million tiny tubes or filters which would measure 75,000 feet if laid end to end. Therefore, it is just as important to watch the kidneys as the bowels. Kidneys are working all the time and are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and poisonous waste out of the blood.

Healthy persons pass thru the bladder 2 pints a day and get rid of more than 2 pounds of waste matter. If you pass less than this, your 75,000 feet of kidney tubes may be clogged with poisonous waste. This is a danger signal and may be the beginning of kidney trouble—leg pains, loss of pep, or dizziness, getting up at night to urinate, feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and discomfort.

Kidneys should be watched closely and need cleansing out the same as bowels. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, an old prescription, which has been used by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help you wash out your 75,000 feet of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

SHOKAN

Stormy weather during the past few days has made raising a rather heavy crop of corn a rather uncertain business. Monday night's storm soaked many a corn field, and the farmers, who are naturally pleased with the season's crop, are becoming somewhat discouraged over the work and worry currently connected with the harvesting of this valuable milk-making legume.

Sunday morning, July 14, the Rev. August F. H. Jones, pastor of the Reformed Church, and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, with a large party, will leave for the Rev. C. V. Bedford, pastor of the Reformed Church, and his family.

One of the most attractive displays of roses in the city is the large group of plants in Mrs. Sarah H. Jones' yard.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Grossman are caring for 40 city boarders at their farmhouse in the west end. Mr. Grossman operates a car without a license, which is a "good" record for the season.

Walter Naughton of New York City is spending his annual vacation at the Winchell farm. Mr. Naughton is an instructor in art at the Vanderburgh High School where he has ten thousand students. This school, together with others in the Bronx, is being conducted on the stagger plan with three separate sessions each day.

Jewett Porter of Enzlewood, N. J., spent the week-end at the Foster summer home on the upper Boreville road.

The Misses Ann, Margaret and Edith Ingalls of Brooklyn have arrived at the state road country home for the summer.

July 15, 1862, Alfred Davis came to Shokan to make his home with his grandfather, Col. John B. Davis. Young Davis in later life was one of the best-known boatmen along the Hudson river. He made hundreds of friends during his career on the river. "Captain Al" was the son of Samuel Davis of Eddyville.

Jerry Phillips, with his team, is mowing grass for the New York City D. W. S. along the reservoir boulevards and at other points around the city's preserve.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Osterhout and son, Billy, of Brown Station were callers here Sunday. Young Osterhout is suffering with a bad case of poison ivy.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Bishop, former residents, were numbered among the Lake Hill residents in town Sunday.

Paul Spalech has returned to his work in New York city after spending a vacation of two weeks here. Mr. Spalech, finding the woodchuck hunting noticeably poorer following the big storm, sagely concluded that

Farmer Speeds Up Nature With Home-Made Soil Drier

George Soenke's home-made "soil drier" is shown above. Below it is a diagram demonstrating how the drainage device works.

Davenport, Iowa (AP)—Now that from the undrained field then runs into the barrel and is carried off through the tile much faster than if it were allowed to seep through the ground.

The device enabled Soenke to work his fields long before other farmers this year, kept out by wet ground.

The tile is connected with the barrel about a foot from the bottom. It extends into the barrel about three inches. The barrel is filled with rocks. This insures a free flow of water through the barrel into the tile, which otherwise would become choked with sediment. Soenke says a barrel lasts about 10 years.

A tile is connected with the lower part of the barrel. The water

How a Department Store Would Operate Under Present Charter

(Contributed by JOSEPH H. CRAIG.)

The majority of our citizens have had no experience in and little opportunity to observe the operation of municipal government and are, therefore, under a handicap in deciding the relative merits of the present and proposed city charters. Practically everybody, however, has a fairly definite idea of how a department store works and a clearer understanding of the charter problem can be obtained if we apply the City of Kingston's present system of government to the organization and operation of a department store.

Our municipal department store will have a shoe department, with the board of shoe commissioners, a hat department, with a board of hat commissioners, a furniture department, with a board of furniture commissioners, in fact it will have all of the departments usually to be found in any department store with each and every department in charge of a board of commissioners. The head of the store will choose these commissioners, not on their knowledge of shoe, or hats, or furniture, but on how much trade they can bring to the store. The board of each department will have its own president and secretary, its own office and office equipment, with a clerk or bookkeeper, or perhaps both, to keep things straight. The president and secretary of each board will sign checks issued for their department. If the secretary is not available the board will designate another of its members to sign checks temporarily and if the president is away we will simply have to wait his return. Each board will issue orders, establish selling prices, set dollar days and conduct its own affairs without regard for any other department and with little regard for the wishes of the store head.

It is hard to imagine how long our municipal department store would last if it depended solely on profits to continue. Yet this is by no means a far-fetched illustration as the same efficient underlying business principles should serve both public and private enterprise.

HIGHLAND

Highland, July 18.—Claud Coutant is spending a week's vacation at Providence, R. I.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cornell spent last week vacationing on Cape Cod.

Robert Coutant returned Tuesday from two weeks spent at Camp Presmakar.

Miss Pearl Scott returned to her position at the Chodikee Lake Country Club after a week's illness.

Mrs. Edward Curry, Miss Edna Curry, Mrs. William Martin and Miss Ethel Martin are at the Curry home at Cooperstown for several weeks and will be joined by friends from here later.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Upright and Miss Elsie Coutant spent the weekend in Hartford, Conn.

Mrs. Mamie Wood and son, Teddy, Mrs. Emma Davis, Miss Susan Mackey, Mrs. Mabel Rice and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Booth of Milton surprised Mr. and Mrs. John R. Wood Saturday evening when they came to celebrate Mrs. Wood's birthday. She received many nice gifts.

Mrs. Mabel Rice was called Monday to Cape May, N. J., owing to injuries her sister received in an automobile accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Ledyard Ball and Mrs. Hudson Covert returned Monday after spending a few days at Lake Placid.

Mrs. Irving Rathgeb, Mrs. Dora Wilklow, Mrs. S. D. Farnham and son, Frank, spent Wednesday with Mrs. V. P. Salvatore in the latter's camp at Greenwood Lake.

Mrs. Florence Rivenburgh, Miss Elizabeth Rivenburgh, Willard Rivenburgh of Poughkeepsie, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Feeter of Kingston were guests of Miss Raymond and Mrs. Dora A. Haight for dinner Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Charles Moser of Pine Plains, president of North River Presbyterian, presided at the meeting following the picnic luncheon Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. W. Lent, secretary of missionary education, on the Bellevue road. The coaching conference date is September 17 in the Presbyterian Church in Marlborough when reports of the Northfield conference will be given and reviews on books for the coming year's study on South America will be made. It is expected that Miss Ruth Benfer of the Allison-James School, Santa Fe, New Mexico, will be the speaker at the fall meeting of the Presbyterian in Cold Spring October 10, and it is hoped to have her for an evening meeting on October 3 and feature the young people with organizing a young people's Presbyterian later. Problems of the church were discussed and plans for the coaching conference program arranged by Mrs. Lent. Attending were Mrs. Charles Moser, Mrs. Edith Fawcett, Miss Ada Brown, Little Britain; Mrs. V. F. Downing, Mrs. J. B. Coakley, Mrs. W. J. Nissey, Pleasant Valley; Mrs. K. G. Bauer and daughter, Dorothy, Mrs. Francis Ryan, Mrs. Charles Mosher, Mrs. Sumner Simmons, Mrs. Althea McLaughlin, Poughkeepsie; Misses Florence Williams, May Belle Williams, Mrs. J. McLoth, Mrs. W. ## "DODGE BLAZES ECONOMY TRAIL" SAYS ROY CHAPMAN ANDREWS

"Sturdy, rugged Dodge helped me blaze a way through trackless wastelands in the Far East," writes Roy Chapman Andrews, famous explorer. "And now Dodge blazes a new trail—the economy trail. I know my new Dodge costs less to run than a small car."

Dodge owners everywhere are getting gas and oil mileage heretofore considered beyond reach. Many figure it costs less to own a Dodge than a small, competitive make. They say their gas and oil savings quickly make up the difference in price.

Drive a Dodge yourself. Make the FREE economy test. See how pleasant, comfortable it is to drive with its "Airglide Ride" and "Synchromatic Control." Dodge gives you the protection of all-steel bodies and genuine hydraulic brakes, yet costs only a few dollars more than the lowest-priced cars. List price now only $645 and up at factory, Detroit.

First Lady Travels Light

Leads Vacation Style Parade With "Two-Bag Wardrobe"

Mrs. Patrick J. Hurley—wears ice-blue satin for sports.

By SIGRID ARNE.

Washington (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, with her summer activities almost entirely "off the record," has reduced her traveling wardrobe to a comfortable minimum.

She explains that she carries only two bags even for a long train trip. One bag holds everything she will need for the ordinary demands of traveling. The other holds such dresses as are necessary for stops along the way.

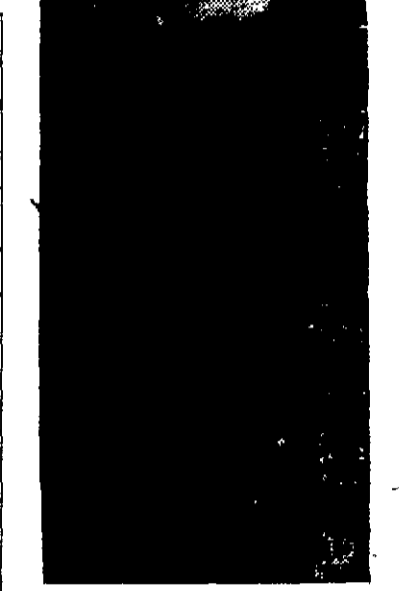

She has found that certain materials make the best "traveling companions." They are lace for evening, very finely tucked chiffons for afternoon, and certain types of crepe usually in all-over prints for day-wear.

Accessories Few.

All her traveling frocks are chosen from some neutral shade so that one or two sets of accessories will serve for all outfits. Her plan simplifies packing so much that she usually takes just one hat, "one not too festive for tailored clothes, and yet appropriate for afternoon dresses."

As for the provoking matter of packing shoes, she passed the subject with a laugh, and said, "aren't shoes a nuisance?"

But while Mrs. Roosevelt is commuting quietly, and almost unnoticed, between the White House and Hyde Park, many other women in the official set have settled down for the enforced summer season here and the meticulous attention to appearance which summer weather makes necessary.

Mrs. Joseph W. Byrne, wife of the Speaker, always is a cool looking figure at dinner which she and her husband eat together in the dining-room of a popular hotel. She is a trim person with thick, white, bobbed hair and bright dark eyes. She has started a dainty fad by wearing her lorgnette hung on a narrow ribbon which matches in color some shade of her frock. One such outfit is crisp white Swiss dotted in red and blue. She wears with it a large, cherry red straw hat, carries a red wooden bag, and hangs her lorgnette on a narrow red ribbon.

The tall, blonde Mrs. Patrick J. Hurley, wife of the former secretary of war, has adopted satin for sports clothes. She has one outfit of ice blue satin with which she wears a large linnen hat in darker blue. The corner of a dark blue linen handkerchief sticks out of the tailored pocket on the blouse of her dress.

Mrs. O'Day Fans.

The new woman member of Congress, Mrs. Caroline O'Day of New York, is the subject of frequent comment in the galleries because of her ability to look both dainty and tailored.

One of her working outfits is a black and white linnen suit. The skirt is a plain one of black and white inch stripes running up and down. The jacket is a plain white with a stripe of black outlining the narrow Tuxedo collar. With all of her costumes Mrs. O'Day wears plain pearl earrings and a long pearl necklace which she loops about her neck twice.

Tackling Flood Problem in New York

Albany, N. Y., July 18 (AP)—United States army engineers today tackled the problem of preventing future disastrous floods in New York state while state and city officials awaited their recommendations.

Although a few communities in the south-central area where 43 persons lost their lives and $25,000,000 property damage was caused by last week's floods have suggested control measures, most municipalities plan to let the army men point the way.

Governor Herbert H. Lehman issued the first appeal for aid from the army engineers and President Roosevelt ordered that an immediate survey be made.

How many engineers the army will send into the flood zone and where they will operate will be determined after receipt of a report from the district engineer's office in New York city.

Elmira was one of the few cities to suggest a flood control project to restrain the Chemung, Conchocton and Tioga rivers when floods threatened. The plan, calling for dams and restraining basins in the Chemung watershed, was explained to Governor Herbert H. Lehman last week when he visited the city on his "fact-finding" tour.

Corning city officials have discussed a project to eliminate a "bottle neck" where a creek joins the Chemung river near a railroad bridge. It was proposed that the bridge be extended and the river widened at this point.

Principle's Car In Crash

A car of Frank Principle of 440 Washington avenue which was being operated south and a car of Louis T. Gannotti of Brooklyn traveling north were in collision Wednesday night about a mile north of the city line on route 9-W. The damage to the machines was slight. Troopers Reilly and Metzger made an investigation.

BLUE MOUNTAIN.

Blue Mountain, July 18—Sunday School at 10 a. m. Morning worship at 11 o'clock by the pastor, the Rev. E. C. Duryee. Young people's meeting at 8 p. m. Mrs. William Wolven the leader.

The annual fair and chicken supper will be held on August 21. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Saxe and Mrs. Murcot from Woodhaven are spending their vacation at the Blue Mountain Homestead.

Mrs. Frank Hill is not so well at this writing. Dr. Sonking of Saugerties is attending her.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. de Pool are entertaining friends from Woodhaven and Jersey City.

Mrs. A. Duryee called on Mrs.

Melvin Schoonmaker on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Edna Pettit and daughter, Marguerite, have returned to their home in Woodhaven after spending their vacation at the Blue Mountain Homestead.

Mrs. Illida Myer and daughter, Carolyn, from Kingston, are spend-

Mrs. Mary Van Wort is spending some time at the home of her son in Saugerties.

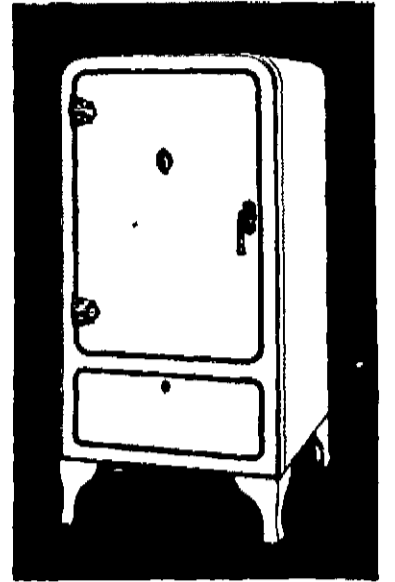

Hartford Myer and the Misses Cecilia and Catherine Healey from Kingston spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Freiligh.

CREEK LOCKS

Creek Locks, July 18—If one who travels our main road from E. Le Fever's home down to the Ackert House, no one can help but notice the beautiful hollyhocks in all the gardens. They are certainly a feast for the eyes. The section included should be called "Hollyhock Lane." More success to the growers of these wonderful flowers.

Any one loving flowers should make a visit to Mrs. Vincent Coffey and see her fine garden.

Mrs. William Haver of Amsterdam is being entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ackert.

Mrs. Logan of New York city is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. John Ehlers.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew P. Hoffman of Catskill were guests of Mrs. Ella Hahn on Sunday.

Henry Neher of Port Ewen was a caller in this village on Monday afternoon.

Miss Nellie Regan of Kingston spent the week-end at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Ground and son and her sister, Helen and husband, and brother, Tony, from Pennsylvania called on Mrs. Ella Hahn Saturday evening.

Miss Agnes McGuire called on her friend, Mrs. Sternberg, of Hickory Bush.

Mrs. Ella Hahn spent Sunday with Miss Sarah Lefever.

Mr. and Mrs. John Coutant and daughter, Margie, of Hoboken, N. J., are spending their vacation with the Coutant family.

This village hasn't been so lively in years. All the summer cottages are rented and the boarding houses are filled.

Miss Josephine Cooke and William Tomlinson, who are spending their vacation at Nu Life Cottage, called on Mrs. Martha Weimar Sunday afternoon.

Carl Leim, Jr., left for Detroit this week where he will join his parents.

Miss Jessie Uiter spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. Vincent Coffey and Mrs. Anna Walsh.

Mrs. Sigmund Schultoff, the proprietor of the Rondout House, had an electric range installed. Henry Neher of Port Ewen was the salesman.

Mrs. Winnie Dugan called on Mrs. George McEvoy, Sr., one evening last week.

Mrs. William Engleman called to see her friend, Mrs. Martha Weimar, one evening last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Donahue, who are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Husman, enjoyed an auto trip Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Williams and daughter, Dorothy, have rented Mrs. Florence Blaney's house for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McNamus are spending a wonderful week with Mr. and Mrs. Husman, also Mrs. John Donahue.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Husman had quite a few surprise visits from old friends, including Mr. and Mrs. Perks of New York city, Mr. and Mrs. George McNamus of West Hartford and Mr. and Mrs. Mooney.

Mooney is the assistant superintendent of Varick street post office, New York city.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Isabella from Kingston also paid a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Husman.

In ancient days the bee was looked upon as a special creation of the gods and honey as being endowed with wondrous virtues, one supposition being that it eat honey brought strength, wealth, knowledge and offspring to man.

Honey is one of nature's best foods and has always stood for superlative sweetness. Before the introduction of cane sugar, honey was apparently the only sweet available for human use.

Cool, Slenderizing Lines!

Here's a lovely cotton dress for warm days in cool lilac batiste print.

The becoming V-neck finishes with a flat band and frilled jabot and the skirt is cut with a panel at the front, to give it long slender lines.

Another nice choice is grey swiss, dotted in white, which is equally at ease in town or country.

Style No. 3496 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards 39-inch material with 1/2 yard of 25-inch contrasting.

A Set of Applique Cows - A Smart Addition to Your Linens

PATTERN 3401

The bathroom—the modern housewife's pride! But to make it really lovely you must have smart linens to complete its beauty. Here is a set that will fill the housewife's crying need for towels that match yet differ from each other. Flower applique in rainbow colors—each a different flower—each in a different color. Can't you imagine the violets in orchid, the lily in pink, the pansies in yellow or deep orchid and the chrysanthemum in yellow, peach or soft rose? The cutwork sets off the design. Of course, if you prefer, you can do the motifs entirely in cutwork. The tiny sprays are done in French knots in color or white. The back edge of each towel is also given. If you wish, you could use these motifs on pillow cases.

In pattern 3401 you will find a transfer pattern of four motifs 5x15 inches and the back edges for each motif; material requirements; color suggestions; illustration of all appliques needed.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman Household Arts Dept., 252 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y.

SCHOOL GETS NATATORIUM FROM ABANDONED QUARRY

St. Cloud, Minn. (AP)—The old swimming hole over run by the St. Cloud Teachers' college campus "just ain't any more."

Near to the regret of the neighborhood gang, the place has been acquired by the college and dressed up into a rather swanky pool.

The natural tank is provided by one of the numerous abandoned quarries in this, the "Granite City." It is 250 feet in circumference and averages 40 feet deep.

Anne Goodnick, national A. A. U. breast stroke champion, and some of the other aquatic stars, have just decided what the kids knew all along—that the quarry pit is perfect. Mrs. Goodnick, in an exhibition meet, clipped two seconds from her best A. A. U. time.

BARBARA BELL FASHION PATTERNS

Pattern No. 1700-B

Trim Coat-Dress for Morning Wear

Whenever comfort is essential, and utility is required, the coat-dress steps forward to make its bow. Never has there been a garment designed which so perfectly meets the demands of a busy life, and fulfills those demands with such smartness, and dispatch.

The dress today departs a little from the usual conception of the dress which buttons down the front, and is belted with a strap proceeding through a small slot at the side.

If you are a home-body you will want this dress in a wash material, which can be laid out flat on an ironing board by whoever attends to that problem. Chambray, gingham, broadcloth, seersucker, poplin, all meet the requirements of this simple and practical garment.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1700-B is designed in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52. Corresponding bust measurements 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52. Size 16 (34) requires about 2 1/2 yards of 36-inch material for the model with short sleeves.

SEND FOR THE BARBARA BELL PATTERN BOOK. Make yourself attractive, practical and becoming clothes selecting designs from the one hundred and four Barbara Bell well planned, easy-to-make patterns. Interesting and exclusive fashions for little children and the difficult junior age; slenderizing, well cut patterns for the mature figure, afternoon dresses for the most particular young women and matrons and other patterns for special occasions are all to be found in the BARBARA BELL PATTERN BOOK. ## MODES OF THE MOMENT

Pleats accent the tailored touch in sports wear. Diana Marwin

With vacation days in full swing and summer sports and travel clothes the most important feature of daytime wardrobes, much interest is manifest in tailored frocks that adapt themselves so readily to many requirements in town, in the country or on the road.

Pleats can always be depended upon to give that tailored style touch, and they do it in a big way on the sporty looking frock pictured above, appearing at both front and back and on the sleeves.

This new model is fashioned of white silk jersey, with its high and mannish turn-over collar, white pearl buttons down the bodice front and a white leather belt with covered buckle.

The front pleats are stitched from the shoulders to hipline and are left open from hips to hemline providing a graceful and very full lower skirt. The short, puffed sleeves are pleated on top and have narrow, band cuffs—while the back with yoke top styling also displays full length pleats down the center as shown in the smaller back view sketch. The new frocks of this type are favored in white and summer's leading pastel tints.

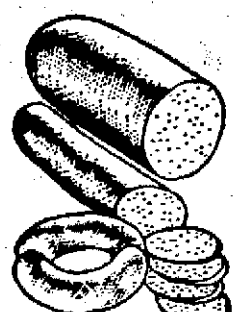

Bath tubs have been found in the dwelling houses of the Tigris Valley which were 4,500 years old. Wonder if there were rings in 'em?

Transporting a total of 17,297 revenue passengers in 30 days, American Airlines established another all-time record during the month of June.

Dominion Day, July 1st, marked the formal opening of that section of the trans-Canada highway between Winnipeg and Fort William-Port Arthur.

The auto racer risks his life for a rich purse, but when you buy cheap frankfurts you risk the health of your family in a race to save a few pennies.

Meats, lacking in food value, that you would never buy are concealed beneath the skins of cheap frankfurts; overly seasoned to mask their short comings.

You know you are safe, with First Prize. Daily tests, in our own plant, by U. S. Department of Agriculture Inspectors assure you of frankfurts containing selected beef and pork, just as wholesome and nourishing as you would buy for "company" dinner. ## Diving Boards Of Flexible Glass Made Possible By New Tempering

HOWARD W. BLAESLEE

Glass diving boards, which used to be in a class with spun ukele strings and fur-lined puttees, actually can be made by the new method, however, has accomplished merely a means of demonstrating flexibility of the product. The spring boards are made of glass tempered so it will not break by bending or by being pulled apart until it is almost as strong as steel. The cooling of the glass is done by heating it in a furnace and then cooling it suddenly in an air jet.

The spring cooling sets up high stresses in the glass. These form a pattern on the surface, which appears as a different direction than strains inside.

This method of tempering plate glass has been in use in Europe for many years. An American firm obtained use of the European patent.

It is claimed for the tempering that it becomes five-times stronger, bend beyond the breaking point, the glass can be twisted, is invulnerable to sudden temperature changes, and when broken does not shatter, but crumbles into innumerable pieces not particularly jagged.

This glass cannot be cut to desired size. A glass cutter sinking enough to penetrate the outer skin causes the whole sheet to shatter. This is due to the tremendous pull between the skin and inner layers of the tempered glass.

Just to show it could be done manufacturers of the new "rubber" glass turned out a diving board and these young women gave it a test.

One of the tests to which it is put is a shot, dropped six feet. The glass may be subjected to a leather sack, containing 11 pounds of shot, dropped six feet without breaking the glass.

SCIENTISTS TAKING SPECTRUM OF LIVING BLOOD

Cambridge, Mass. July 18 (AP)—The nearest thing yet found to the spectrum of life itself—a spectrum of a whole, living blood—is announced by a conference of spectroscopists at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The spectrum is the picture, usually a photograph, obtained by a spectrograph, which is the glass prism that breaks light into a rainbow and by records the fine, atomic structure of the substance under examination.

Blood has been put under the spectrograph before, but only after it had been separated into its parts, no longer really living. This spectrum of whole blood, taken for the first time, was reported by David Brinkin, M. D., of the University of Pennsylvania.

This is something new in scientific medicine. Its principal importance at present is the proof it affords that the spectrograph can be successfully used to reveal the extremely fine structure of a living substance.

The spectrograph is a device which what happens when a few drops of blood are put on a glass plate and a drama altogether too little for a microscope of any chemical analysis to reveal.

The highest death rate from apoplexy, more than 20 for 100,000 population, are found in the states of Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, New Mexico, and Colorado.

COOLING OFF A BIT

During these hot summer days a pup must keep cool—and that's what this white collie is doing. Although still very young, he has learned to grasp an ice cream cone in his paws, and here he's shown "going to town" on one in first class fashion. He's "Lucky" of Cleveland. (Associated Press Photo)

For And Against Proposed Charter

would usurp the office for personal gain or advantage. His pride is in giving the city a clean, sound business administration. His failure to do this wills upon him, he has no alibi, and this is as it should be. While the charter is not a hundred per cent perfect, I do not believe such a charter could be devised, this proposed charter is sound and workable. While I was corporation counsel of this city under the administration of Mayor Irwin there was considerable talk about a new charter. But nothing concrete was devised for discussion and this condition has dragged along until this present charter committee was appointed. They did their work well and the charter should be adopted, unless city wishes to have its business conducted in its present manner which to me is unthinkable.

Charles Burger, former alderman of the Tenth ward.

My views on proposed New City Charter:

I am opposed to the proposed new city charter. In my opinion it gives the mayor too much power. The city of Kingston is located in the United States of America and not in Europe, and I do not think the voters of this city will vote for a Dictator to run our city. If this proposed charter is carried it will give every mayor in the future, regardless who he is, the powers of a Dictator. This alone, is the most important reason why the proposed new charter should be defeated.

Every voter in the city should read this new charter before they vote at this very important special election. The present charter has been working all right for years so why did we have to hold a special election when this could have waited until a regular election with no extra expense to the taxpayers.

J. Terry—Having been a notorious critic of the present charter I am perfectly willing to express myself regarding the proposed new charter.

It may not be the ultimate but I believe it places the responsibility where it belongs.

It eliminates many chances of passing the buck, and makes authority commensurate with the responsibility.

Under the present charter an alderman is chosen by his ward regardless of the city welfare, and may even oppose city welfare in seeking to benefit his ward. Neither is his authority in his ward equal to his apparent powers.

Under the proposed charter each alderman is elected by the city at large, and is subject to the call and requirements of every part of the city. The mayor will be the chief executive in fact, and will be personally responsible for the acts of his appointees and the general administration of the city government.

The city judge says he is opposed to the charter because it places too much power in the hands of one person.

I would like to ask if it is greater than that reposed in the city judge? It may be different but the question is, is it greater?

There are some features of the proposed charter of which I do not entirely approve, that are included. There are also some which I should like to see included that are left out.

On the whole I believe it a great improvement over the present charter as shown by experience, while any conspicuous deficiency may be corrected by the enactment of a local law without referring it to the legislature as formerly.

The basis of our civilization and government is our homes, and the revenue derived from same in the form of taxes. Hence if we are to have these funds both intelligently and economically administered we must rely on modern business methods as provided in the proposed charter.

To the many who have never even seen the present or the proposed charter, but who still believe that the modern machinery of the 20th century is superior to the methods of the past, or the automobile is superior to the horse and buggy. I heartily endorse the proposed charter a modern business machine for carrying on the city government.

Max J. Oppenheimer:

I think that the plan of the new charter, in consolidating all the work in streets, sewer, and water lines, under a single head, will save considerable duplication of labor and use of material and tools. This should enable the city to make a large saving in the course of a year.

N. Jansen Fowler—The proposed charter is certainly an improvement over the present one. It provides for the centralization of power and responsibility giving the people a closer check on their elected representatives, a longer term of office for those elected, allowing them sufficient time to effect their policies, and representation at large rather than by wards which should destroy selfish sectionalism and promote general civic betterment.

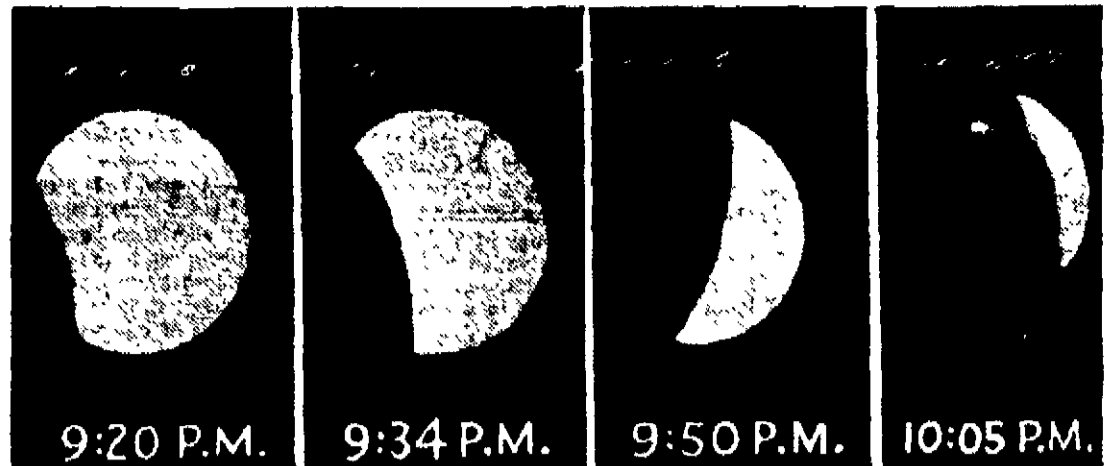

The proposed charter is the result of careful study and analysis by capable, honest and conscientious citizens who were advised by men who are well versed in matters of municipal government and who are recognized authorities in that field.

It is, of course, not a perfect instrument, but if given a fair trial, any errors which develop can be rectified by amendment at a later date. Certainly no one should vote against the charter because any one or several provisions do not meet with their approval; it should be considered in its entirety. Unless the people look at the proposed charter in this light we can never expect or hope for any improvement in our city government either now or in the future. Let us be progressive with conditions as they are.

Douglas Fairbanks attended Harvard and was once a broker on Wall Street.

In County Granges

Exchange Program.

An exchange program was given at Highland Grange meeting Tuesday evening. Owing to the absence of the lecturer, Mrs. Bradford Freer, Mrs. Charles Bell conducted the lecturer's hour. There was general singing by all present, followed by a roll call of hobbies, a song by Richard Dowd and jokes told by Hudson Covert. During the social hour refreshments of sandwiches, cake and lemonade were served by the committee with Mrs. Mary Carroll, chairman, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dowd, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Oiree, Mrs. Howard Strongman, Miss Mildred Strongman, Walter H. Seaman. There were thirty-five present including three guests from the Clintonville Grange. Mrs. Charles Bell asked all members to be at the August 6th meeting to complete plans for the clambake to be held August 15. The Pomona officers are to be entertained at the first meeting in August. The Grange picnic is to be held on August 2 at the Mollenhauer farm at Rosendale for Grange members and friends.

The Coach Horn

A coach horn is a tapering horn of brass or copper used to sound a few simple calls. It has no keys and its range is limited to six open notes. The horn varies from 42 to 56 inches in length. The calls have a recognized place in coaching, and were, of course, more generally known in the days of the stage coach. The horn, like coaching, is employed generally in connection with racing or by the few coaching clubs in the wealthier centers, as New York, London, Paris, Berlin, etc.

Height of Icebergs

Few of the northern icebergs reach a great height; a berg of 100 feet being exceptional. The reason is that they are so carved by erosion on their way South that their bulk is lost before they are sighted. The danger from the bergs is not a head-on collision, but a grazing contact with the ice-foot which runs out under the water—a sharp and steel-like menace which rips the ship like a can opener.

Crayfish Short-Lived

Few crayfish (crawfish, crabs) pass through a second winter, says an authority. Eggs are laid in the fall, but the young do not appear until June. They grow rapidly until the middle of September, but do not grow at all from then until March. Most crayfish will live through the second year, but only a few pass through the second winter. Man has probably helped rather than hindered the crayfish even though he does use them for bass bait. By catching the game fishes, minnows, muskrats and raccoons, man has depleted those agencies which prey on crayfish.

Cases Disposed of In City Court Today

William Ellsworth, 51, of 445 Wilbur avenue, was sentenced to 60 days in the Ulster county jail by City Judge Bernard A. Culliton this morning when he pleaded guilty to public intoxication.

Ellsworth was arrested by Patrolman William J. Roedel Wednesday afternoon at 4:55 o'clock on complaint of neighbors. They told the police that Ellsworth "beat up" his mother. She is 82 years old today.

When Sergeant James V. Simpson wrote out the information on Ellsworth's arrest, he made special note of the complaint about him striking his mother. Neighbors said they heard her screams. In passing sentence on Ellsworth, Judge Culliton considered this.

"I didn't know what I was doing," Ellsworth explained to the judge.

"That's not to your credit," said the judge. "Sixty days."

Vagrants Sentenced
John Conway of New York city and Hugh Sweeney of Hackensack, N. J., arrested by Patrolman Joseph Fallon at Broadway and St. James street, Wednesday night, for vagrancy, were sentenced to 10 days in jail.

Three panhandlers were brought before the judge and were sent to jail.

Daniel Flanagan of Fall River, Mass., got 20 days. "And when you get out stay around Fall River," Judge Culliton told Flanagan. He was arrested Wednesday evening at Broadway and Railroad avenue by Officer William Roedel.

Ten days each were given Edward Welch of Cambridge, Mass., and Michael Maurosky of Syracuse. They were arrested at 10 o'clock Wednesday night at Broadway and O'Neil street by Patrolman Joseph Fallon.

Leo Kardos of 28 Lafayette avenue, arrested Tuesday evening by Patrolman Fallon for passing a red light at Broadway and Foxhall avenue, was fined $5.

Agnes Love of New York, arrested at 121 Green street, Wednesday night by Special Officer Edward Mahoney for public intoxication was given the choice of paying $5 fine or spending five days in jail.

John Witkowski of 27 Hanratty street was sentenced to five days in jail for public intoxication. He was arrested by Special Officer Marjorie Whitaker, Wednesday night, at Hasbrouck Park.

Doyle Ready for His Exhibition Friday Night at Wallkill

Jack Doyle, Irish heavyweight champion, and according to Dan Morgan, opponent of James J. Braddock, who holds the world's title, last night returned to Hunt's Edgewater Camp in Lomontville to await his exhibition at Wallkill Medium Security Prison, Friday.

Doyle stopped Jack Redmond, Monday night, in four rounds at Meadow Brook, near Newark. Several weeks ago he knocked out Phil Donato in one round. Dan Morgan, ex-manager of Gene Tunney, and who directed three world's champions at one time, thinks Doyle is on his way to the heavyweight throne.

"Jack'll make a better match for Braddock than either Max Schmeling or Joe Louis," he told a reporter at Edgewater Camp last week. "And I think you'll see him get his chance at the champ, too, before long."

Morgan promised to let local boxing fans get a glimpse of Doyle in action by letting him box an exhibition with Mickey McAvoy, one of his sparring partners, Friday night, at Wallkill Medium Security Prison. "Sure, we'll be pleased to box for you," he told Dr. Leo J. Palmer, superintendent of the prison, "when asked whether the 209 pound Irishman would go on."

Although the sparring exhibition features the program, there are eight good matches on the card that promise plenty of action. One will show Big Bill Freeman of West Point against Johnny Peters of Wallkill, a clever boxer and terrific hitter who is favored to knock out the ex-National Guard champion who has 17 pounds advantage on him in weight.

Two Kingston boys, Ken Boyce and Billy Buckman are scheduled to box boys from Wallkill.

Another Softball League for City

Another City Softball League will be formed at a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. tonight, starting at 9 o'clock.

Three are the American Mechanics, St. Mary's Holy Name, Triangle Club, Parisians, Moose Club, City Service, Telephone, Rapid Hose and Cordis Hose.

Sycamore Tree Felled Perfectly
Much as the people in the neighborhood of Crown and John streets hated to see the beautiful and healthy sycamore tree in front of the Board of Elections office cut down, they are unanimous in expressing their admiration for the perfect manner in which the great tree was felled.

The great trunk came down yesterday, slowly, without too great a crash and landed precisely crosswise of the roadway with an almost equal distance free space between the curb and the trunk on either side of the roadway.

Paris Demonstrations
Paris, July 26 (AP)—Premier Pierre Laval, appealing to the common sense of his countrymen, banned today all public demonstrations against his economy program.

GETS JOB 63 YEARS AGO; STILL AT WORK

Answers Ad and Lands Permanent Employment.

New York.—In 1872 he answered a help wanted ad in a newspaper and got the job. Today, 63 years later, he still has it, having set what is believed to be an American record for continuous employment with one concern, and he doesn't want to retire.

William W. Hanold was twenty-two when he answered the ad. He became one of the five employees of H. W. Johns, pioneer asbestos manufacturer. Today, at eighty-five, declining retirement or pension, Mr. Hanold is still at work in the headquarters of the company.

Sailboat Enthusiast.
The only thing he resents at all to the passing of the good old days is the popularity of motorboats, because:

"I found it hard beginning four or five years ago to get people to go out sailing with me. I had been doing it regularly. I loved it. But there were more and more boats with kickers where I sailed—Gravesend bay and Sheephead bay, and my friends all wanted to go around in boats with kickers."

This affection for sailboats was ingrained early. He was in the navy in the '90s and his best loved ship, the Mohican, had a propeller which could be hoisted out of the water and she could use her sails entirely. Hanold was an expert at handling a small sailboat.

Wins Special Mention.
It was a cutter which led a party from the Mohican up a devious river near Mazatlan, Mexico, after the piratical steamer Forward. The Forward, a former British gunboat, sold at Victoria, B. C., and acquired by a crew which included renegades from Union and Confederate armies, was out to prey on vessels carrying silver ore from the west coast of Mexico to San Francisco. She helped herself to some United States navy coal, the Mexican government asked help and the Mohican took a lively interest.

When the party from the Mohican reached the Forward, which had grounded 40 miles up the twisty channel of the Teacapan river, most of the crew of the pirate ship had gone ashore, taking not only small arms but howitzers. The commanding officer in the cutter, Ensign J. M. Walnwright, was fatally wounded, and Hanold was in charge. The report of the secretary of the navy for 1870, which tells all this, says, too "W. W. Hanold, yeoman, deserves special mention."

Farmers Now Take to Electric Refrigerators
Washington.—Farmers are following the lead of housewives in changing from the ice man to electric refrigerators, the Agricultural department reports.

With rapid extension of electrical lines into farm lands, mechanical refrigeration for cooling and storing milk on dairy farms is fast gaining favor.

In 1924, only about 2.7 per cent of farms in the United States were served with high-line electricity, while in 1932 the number had increased to 11 per cent.

Irregular delivery of manufactured ice, the department said, led many farmers to adopt mechanical refrigeration. Health department regulations also have been factors in changing methods of cooling milk.

Says Children Should Work for Allowances

London.—Children should earn their pocket money, otherwise they will deteriorate in character, says Dr. Marie Carmichael Stopes, birth-control pioneer.

Ever since he was four her own son, now eleven, has had a "wage-book" which he signs when any payment is made. The book contains such items as:

"Cleaning white paint in drawing room, 2d"; "Laying turf straight in garden, 4d"; "Chopping wood, 2d"; and "Feeling a tree, 6d."

"The point is not that all help should be paid for," she said, "but that so payment should be made without some work done in return."

Cattle Shipments From Canada to U. S. Increase

Ottawa, Ont.—The United States has replaced Great Britain as Canada's best customer for live cattle.

Last year Canada shipped 39,000 head of cattle to Britain. This year shipments have been fewer than 5,000 head.

Canada's exports to the United States, on the other hand, increased from 2,329 head in the ten months ended April 30, 1934, to 22,471 head in the same period this year.

The demand and high prices paid in the United States for cattle as a result of extreme drought is given as the reason for the sudden change of markets.

You Can Now Carry Your Drinks in Your Vest Pocket

Leipzig.—An ice cold drink or a piping hot drink may be enjoyed anywhere and at any time by carrying a pocket vacuum flask, a new device shown at the Leipzig fair. The principle of the flask is that the liquid is sealed in a small container which is connected by a tube to the outside of the flask.

Colony From
Colony from are extremely long-lived. Electricity is probably not reached in less than 20 or 30 years. Some trees start bearing only at eight or ten years. An agricultural engineer of the United States Department of Agriculture reported seeing in Mexico "large trees, which must have been nearly a hundred years old, bearing excellent crops."

"Killy Hawk" Identified Slate, Rust-Colored Hawk

It takes boys to name—or nickname—frankly enough to describe a creature so one may easily recognize it; hence, the name "killy hawk." This small, slate and rust colored hawk, somewhat like a falcon or small parrot in shape, may be heard calling "killy, killy, killy-ee" when alarmed or hunting. So, the name killy hawk often identifies the sparrow hawk most readily.

The killy hawk, says a writer in the Indianapolis News, will be seen perched on the tops of fence posts and telephone poles along highways and byways. She will often fly for a mile or so ahead of a slowly moving automobile, alighting on a pole a little ahead of the car each time until the car draws very near her perch.

She is a friendly little hawk, often seen about the farm home. Very graceful, the killy hawk will hover over a spot in an open field, wings beating steadily. If she spies the mouse or grasshopper whose movement she first glimpsed as she made a short flight from her lookout point, she will dart down and seize it in her sharp talons. Then she will carry her prey away to some favorite perch to devour.

She is a valuable little hawk, because she eats so many mice and grasshoppers, and an occasional English sparrow. Her vice is that she will prey on valuable small birds when other food is not to be found.

Amsterdam on 90 Islands; Has Hundreds of Bridges
It is difficult to imagine why anyone should have selected the present site of Amsterdam for a metropolis. In the beginning the dam on which Gysbrecht II, Lord of Amstel, built his castle, was a dike almost entirely surrounded by gray ooze slashed with tidal rivulets.

Now Amsterdam stands on 90 islands, connected by about 900 bridges and separated by innumerable canals which are landscaped and regulated with all the exquisite perfection of the waterways of exhibition grounds.

Along these canals, except the most strictly commercial thoroughfares, are rows of linden trees with branches bending down so far as to sometimes wash the still surface of the water.

The buildings of Amsterdam are of two distinct sorts: the old—none of which seems to have been troubled by carpenter or mason in at least 300 years—and the new.

Next to ancient houses with "steep" gables topped by a stock's nest of tangled twigs stand extremely modernistic structures in the building of which Holland has been a pioneer.

The Shetland Sheep Dog
Like the shaggy Shetland pony, the sturdy little Shetland dogs are but a dwarfed version of their larger relatives on the mainland. In conformation they differ from the typical show collie only in minor points, that is, the Shetland sheepdog's head is less long, the face less aquiline and the texture of the coat more silky. The prevailing colors are similar—black and white, golden sable and white, or black, white and tan. The white markings are evenly distributed in the profuse neck frill, the collar, the blaze up the face, on the legs and feet and often at the tip of the substantial, heavily feathered brush. Seen at their best, they are graceful, agile, altogether beautiful little dogs.

"Mocha" Coffee
Coffee was originally shipped from the Port of Mocha, Arabia, on the Red sea, to which it owes the name "Mocha." But for about 200 years nothing has been shipped from that port, which has been closed by drifting sand. This name, however, has clung ever since to a certain kind of high-grade coffee. Abyssinia now ships a grade of Mocha, and much of that kind of coffee is shipped from Aden, Arabia. Traders from Turkey and Egypt go to Arabia, buy the crops on the tree, and supervise their picking and preparation.

Earthquake Zones
The great earthquake zone includes the area of the Mediterranean sea, the Azores, Italy, West Indies, Central America, Japan, China, India, Persia, Asia Minor and various branches leading off the main faults in the earth's crust; also the great mountain ranges contain lines of weakness in the crust of the earth. Professor Montessus, in his great world map recording earthquakes, lists over 100,000 which have been known to have disastrous effects.

Mountain Forest by Wives
Beautiful women whose homes are garden palaces are believed to inhabit the mountains of Boggar in the heart of the Sahara. Here lived a race of lovely women who are said to survive to the present day. Arabs never try to climb the Gora-d-Djinnoun peak. Their wives forbid them to do so lest they fall into the hands of the beautiful inhabitants and fall to return home.—Pioneer's Weekly.

Old Serbian Mine Yields Secret of "Magic" Sword
Belgrade.—A prospector examining medieval mine workings in Old Serbia believes he has solved the mystery of the "magic" swords which would cut through the armor of the enemy with which many of the legendary heroes of the Serbian Middle Ages were armed. In an old working from which iron had been extracted he found a piece of metal which is probably the oldest piece of special steel known.

He tried in vain to bore a hole in it and finally sent it to Vienna to be examined. Analysis proved it to be a special steel of peculiar hardness. The circumstances under which it was found suggest that it is at least 1,000 years old—500 years before special steel was rediscovered.

CONNECTICUT DIGS INTO PAST HISTORY

Observes 300th Anniversary of Its Settlement.

Washington.—Connecticut is bubbling over with enthusiasm during the celebration of its tercentenary. Every town in the state is digging up its past history. Recent anniversaries observed in connection with the tercentenary are the Bristol sesquicentennial and the two hundred and seventy-fifth year of the Hopkins Grammar school in New Haven.

"Netherlanders, not the English, were first on the Connecticut scene," says the National Geographic society. "They sailed up the broad Connecticut river, mapped part of the coastline, and later established a trading post near the present site of Hartford."

"But rumors of the fertile lands and mild climate of the Connecticut valley had reached the Plymouth colony. Settlers from Massachusetts hurried down from the north, set up a rival post on the river, and in 1635 founded the three towns of Wethersfield, Windsor, and Hartford, nucleus of the colony."

"The fundamental orders adopted by this little group marked the beginning of constitutional government in this country. Later, when Connecticut delegates played an important part in the shaping of the federal Constitution, their state became known as the 'Constitution State.'"

Included Wide Territory.
"Under the charter of 1662, granted by Charles II, the Connecticut colony included Long Island, and stretched westward from Narragansett bay to the Pacific ocean! The Wyoming valley in north central Pennsylvania, and the Western Reserve in Ohio (near the present city of Cleveland) were considered part of Connecticut even late in the eighteenth century. The New Haven colony, founded in 1636, had not been consulted when this charter was procured, and it took three years to persuade its people to unite with the Hartford group. Hartford was made the capital, but from 1701 to 1873 New Haven shared the honors as joint capital."

"Geography molded Connecticut's fate. It is a little state (the third smallest in the Union), broken into smaller units by topography. The wide valley of the Connecticut river, running north and south through the center of the state, separates the rough uplands of the eastern and western portions. Long after the coast and central valley was settled these highlands remained a wilderness. They consist of a series of hills and ridges, high in the north and low near the coast, paralleling the southward course of rivers and streams."

"Rocky hillsides and narrow valleys made large farms impractical in Connecticut. Only the Connecticut valley was particularly suited to the raising of staple crops, such as tobacco. So the state became a land of small, independent farms and diversified crops. Agriculture in Connecticut was never easy."

Many Important Industries.
"That is why the people turned to industry as the best available source of wealth. Here again geography cramped them. The state has water power but few minerals. The old Granby copper mines, never very profitable, were turned into a prison during the Revolution. Salisbury's iron mines were more successful. They have been worked for two centuries, furnishing ore for Revolutionary cannon balls and for the anchor of the Constitution."

"Lacking raw materials Connecticut has concentrated on the manufacture of brass and copper products, machinery, firearms, ammunition, typewriters, and innumerable small articles; tableware, tacks, machetes, coffee percolators, rubber boots, needles, pins, books and eyes."

"Bridgeport's industries lead them all and New Haven is not far behind. The latter owes quite as much to Eli Whitney as to Eli Yale. After the inventor perfected the cotton gin he turned to New Haven. Another New Haven man, Charles Goodyear, discovered the process for vulcanizing rubber."

"A century ago Connecticut was a seagoing country. Shipbuilding, whaling and China trade brought wealth to coastal villages and river ports. Many of the vessels that carried forty-niners around the Horn were built at Mystic. Essex launched the Oliver Cromwell, first ship in the U. S. navy; and Wethersfield built the Desire, first American vessel to cross the Atlantic. But times have changed. New London is now a submarine base, and the fishing industry confines itself chiefly to the oysterbeds of Long Island Sound."

DeWitt Lake Concert.
This evening the St. George Boys' Choir of Newburgh will render a concert from the band stand at DeWitt Lake. This widely known group was heard last Sunday in a concert which was well appreciated. The boys will repeat the concert heard last Sunday. The singing will start at 8 o'clock.

Mermaids Quality
New York, July 18 (AP)—Seven of the nation's swiftest mermaids headed by the defending champion, Olive McKean, of Seattle, Wash., qualified today for the 100-meters final at the start of the annual four-day Women's A. A. U. National Championship Swimming Meet at Manhattan Beach.

TVA Falls Into Step Alongside the AAA

Washington, July 18 (AP)—The TVA fell into step alongside the AAA today on the road that will lead to the Supreme Court and a life-or-death decision in the fall.

Both of these major New Deal measures—the one designed to provide that the Roosevelt administration calls a "yardstick" for electric rates and the other involving a vast system of crop control—are considered virtually certain to be tested before the high tribunal in the autumn.

There was no immediate comment from high officials of the administration on the decision yesterday by the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans that the Tennessee Valley Authority has constitutional power to sell electricity.

Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the TVA Board, and David Lillenthal, a director, both expressed pleasure but deferred making any formal statement.

The news came at a time when federal officials still were studying a decision, made by the Circuit Court at Boston a day earlier, that the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's processing and floor taxes, backbone of the crop control set-up, are unconstitutional.

Whichever way the decisions had gone, it was said, appeals to the high court were assured beforehand. Meanwhile, the word from the New Deal was that these and other measures would be carried on until such time as the highest court shall rule on them.

Tennessee Valley Authority is involved in another fight which may be decided in the next few days. It will be waged in a conference by legislators representing Senate and House.

The House refused yesterday to go along with the Senate in substituting a broader TVA amendment bill, desired by the administration, for the modified measure passed by the House. So this legislation intended to bolster TVA and extend its scope, must be ironed out in conference.

A test of TVA in the lower courts of Tennessee resulted in an injunction yesterday against the construction of a municipal power system in Knoxville to distribute TVA power, but the city announced it will appeal to the State Supreme Court. The lower court held the federal government had no right to make a loan to Knoxville or to control rates of the utility, which would operate entirely within the state.

Back in The Ring
New York, July 18 (AP)—Former Mayor John F. Hylan, Recovery party candidate for governor in 1934, tossed his hat back in the ring today but kept a string attached to it. He declined last night to become affiliated with the Constitutional Democracy party headed by Simeon J. Beckerman of Queens but said he "might" run again on the Recovery ticket. In 1934 he lost an attempt to have his name placed on the ballot but obtained a small "write-in" vote. At the same time Magistrate Benjamin E. Greenspan said he had not decided whether to accept Beckerman's support for justice of the supreme court.

Awaits Favorable Moment.
New York, July 18 (AP)—Thor Solberg, Norwegian-American flier, rearranged the heavy load on his plane today awaiting a favorable moment for another start on his projected flight to Bergen, Norway. Solberg and his wireless operator, Paul Ockanyan, took off from Floyd Bennett Field late yesterday, intending to make Montreal their first stop. Fifty minutes later they brought the plane, the Lief Erikson, back to the field, explaining it was tail-heavy and unmanageable in the air.

Second Number of Boy Scout Paper

The second number of the official Boy Scout Camp newspaper has been issued. The paper is known as the Half Moon Beams and is published by the campers to give the news of events which are taking place in and about camp. In the second edition is the names of the editorial staff which includes the names of several local boys. "The Staff" consists of Bob Connelly, editor-in-chief; John Denike, sports editor; Jack Wilkie, warrent; Bob Beatty, nature and handicraft; Dick Dumm, Indian news; H. Hornbeck, ranger news; Bob Connelly, pioneer news; Bud Loughran and Bob Beatty are staff artists and Frank Branley and Ed Doolan are staff advisors.

The first edition came out with but two pages, although the staff numbered page two as 16. The next edition is a four-page paper and is full of the different phases of camp life. The mimeographed paper contains numerous illustrations by the "staff artists."

Colonial Fruit Company, Inc.
this city has filed a certificate of incorporation in the office of the county clerk. Directors of the corporation are John W. Matthews, Ralph Meitin and Raymond E. Crabb all of this city. The papers state the corporation is organized to deal in fruits and vegetables both wholesale and retail and to operate cold storage. The principal office is located in Kingston at Smith avenue and Grand street. The capital stock of the corporation is $50,000, consisting of 500 shares of a par value of $100. The stock is divided into 250 shares of common and 250 of preferred stock are entitled to cumulative dividends at the annual rate of 5%. The corporation papers provide that on liquidation the preferred stockholders are entitled to be paid first at the rate of $100 a share.

CLASSIFIED ADS THEY PULL RESULTS

LET'S go places—it's vacation time!

Lame Horse Gulch, Strawberry Plains, Notichucky, Hobble Hog Ridge, Tarrytown, Burntshirt Pass . . . there's something about American place names that makes you want to go a-gyping.

All the continent is yours this year. There never was a better time to see the wonders of your country. Roads were never better. Prices were never lower . . . and who can count on it that they will be as low next year?

Saddleback Ledge, Crossing-Of-The-Fathers, Androscoggin, Yoho Valley, Ishpeming, Buffalo Lick, Crazy Horse Rapids, Canajoharie, North Hero, Blowing Rock, Lakes in the Clouds . . .

There never was more to see. Out West—the huge Boulder Dam, the great new Exposition at San Diego, the National Parks that you've wanted to visit since you were a child. East? There's Colonial America with its treasure house of folk lore, France-in-Canada just a few hours away, beautiful Washington where you can see history being made that your grandchildren will read about in school. Down South there's the TVA where you will watch a new civilization being born, visit with picturesque mountaineers who still speak the quaint language of Queen Elizabeth's day, and then drive past old plantation houses steeped in their memories of "Befo' de War."

Tillamook, Mauch Chunk, Garden of the Gods, Waah Waah Mountains, Culpepper, Oshkosh, Winnepesaukee, Funeral Mountains, Thief River Falls, San Luis Obispo, Chocolate Mountains, Lake Mashapaug, Chickamauga, San Leandro Tallapoosa, Turkey Run, Shenandoah, Hogan's Knob, Mule's Ear Pass, Over-the-Hills-and-Far-Away, Cold Harbor, El Camino Del Rey . . . there's something about American place names that makes you want to be up and away at sunrise and over a winding road.

Plan now for a real summer . . . a complete change . . . a trip you will never forget!

How To Save Money On Your Vacation

ONE family can take a fine vacation and spend a lot of money doing it. Their next-door-neighbors can take the same trip, do the same things, enjoy the same rest and change of scene and get by on a lot less. How come?

It's all in how you get ready beforehand . . . and it makes a mighty big difference! Sensible people buy for a vacation the same way they buy food for a dinner party, gifts for Christmas, furniture for a new home.

They "shop the ads" in the Daily Freeman!

Don't wait until a week beforehand and then scurry around trying to get ready. You'll be in a hurry, you won't have time to buy wisely, you'll invariably pay too much! Start now to read and check the Daily Freeman ads. Take advantage of the advertised sales to cut corners and still be sure of high quality.

Begin by "shopping the ads" in today's issue. Keep it up every day. Then when the great day dawns, you will be ready for vacation down to the last button — and have more money to spend on fun and "going places"!

N. R. S. C. Submerged 16-6, by The Crystal Beauty Shoppe

Swimming the ball to all corners of the lot and taking advantage of ragged playing enabled the Crystal Beauty Shoppe to win easily over the North Rondout Social Club in a City League game at the Athletic Field, Wednesday evening. The score was 16 to 6, a big contrast from the games played in the circuit this season.

Seven doubles rattled off the bats of the Hairdressers and these, coupled with nine singles and eight Social Club errors, allowed them to score at will. Ted Freleigh supplied the big gun in the attack, collecting five hits out of five trips to the plate. Two of the clouts went for doubles. Paul Joyce with a double and two singles followed Freleigh.

All these hits were made off the combined pitching of Joe Boots and Leo Komosa. Boots started the game and took a shellacking for four innings. He was nipped for 11 hits during his short stay. Leo Komosa, making his debut in the league, relieved Boots and was found for five safeties.

Bill Thomas went the entire route for the Hairdressers. He got off to a shaky start, but had nothing to worry about for his teammates gave him a big margin to work with in the first two innings. After the second inning he settled down and the Rondouters had a hard time solving his delivery, only one hit coming in the last four frames.

Earl Benjamin started the game with a double to right field and before the first frame was over Joyce and Freleigh singled to account for two runs.

The Rondouters tied the score in their half of the first frame on singles by Mitchell, Turk and "Coke" Tiano and an error by Joyce.

Four runs in the second broke the tie and from there on the Hairdressers never were in danger. They registered six times more in the fourth, three in fifth and one in the sixth.

The Rondouters' other runs came in the second and fourth, one in the second and three in the fourth.

SIDELINERS

The Beauty Shoppe presented a strong lineup, a big improvement over the first half team.

There was plenty of long clouts, eight doubles in all being made. For a while it looked like Ted Freleigh would take another case of Burgomaster when he hit his second two-bagger, but fast fielding by Williams spoiled his chance.

GAME TONIGHT

The Berardi A. C. will make its initial appearance in the league when they meet Ad Jones' Dairy at the Athletic Field this evening at 6:15 o'clock. Berardi's lineup will include a big portion of the high school players along with some old timers. J. Tiano, former Social Club pitcher, is expected to do mound duty for the newcomers. His receiver will be Mac Tiano. Johnny Cullen or Joe Mahar can be called to do the elbowing for the Hairdressers. Nick Dulla will be stationed behind the plate.

Davis Cup Drawings Made in England

London, July 18 (AP)—The draw for the Interzone Davis Cup matches between the United States and Germany starting Saturday, was made here today.

Two singles matches will be played Saturday, the first between Donald Budge of Oakland, Cal., and Heiner Henkel, the youthful German star. This pair will be followed to the court by Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., ranking American player, and Baron Gottfried Von Cramm, ace of the German squad.

The doubles matches Monday will find Allison and John Van Ryn of Philadelphia teamed against Von Cramm and K. Lund. Following this match, Helen Jacobs, the American women's champion, and Gene Mako of Los Angeles, will play a mixed doubles contest against an English team to be named later.

In two more singles matches to be played Tuesday, Allison will meet Henkel and Von Cramm will play Budge.

MIDGET BATTLERS WILL MIX IT ON FRIDAY

For the feature attraction at the dance Friday evening, which the Wilbur Dodgers are holding at the Pleasure Yacht, formerly Baldwin's Hall, two midget boxers will square off for combat. King, 77 lbs. and four feet tall and Prince, 88 lbs. and four feet tall will be the principals in this epic ring struggle.

Both of the little men are former members of the famous troupe of Singer Midgets as well as of the Picolo Midgets. They have both played at the Broadway Theatre, Kingston, while on vaudeville tour.

The STANDINGS

(By The Associated Press.)

Robert Moses Grove and "Wild" Bill Hallahan are the outstanding candidates for the honor of staging the greatest major league comeback of 1935.

Grove has attracted more attention largely because of the $100,000 price tag he carried when Connie Mack sold him to the Red Sox, but the revival of Hallahan has been almost as remarkable.

Last season Hallahan, no longer as wild as he used to be, pitched only ten complete games and had a record of eight victories and 12 losses with a pennant-winning club. He got off to a poor start again this year, losing his first three games. He broke the spell late in June and has rolled up five successive victories, seemingly getting better on each start.

In four complete games since that first triumph, Bill has allowed a total of 14 hits, checking the Braves with four blows to extend the Cards' winning streak to 13 straight with a 2 to 1 triumph yesterday.

Grove got on the victory road earlier and has won 11 games, the last five in succession. He assured the Red Sox of a stay in the American League's first division by pitching them to a 3 to 1 triumph over Cleveland in the second game of yesterday's double-header after they had won the opener 13 to 5.

The Cardinal victory settled the team more firmly in second place as the Phillies turned back Chicago 3 to 1 on the combination of Curt Davis' drop-hit fling and a concentration of four straight blows off Bill Lee in the fourth.

After barely lasting to take the opener 5 to 4, Brooklyn racked up a 5 to 0 triumph over Pittsburgh when Big George Earnshaw turned in a seven-hit game.

The Giants slammed out 15 blows behind Carl Hubbell to defeat the Reds 6 to 3. It was the first Cincinnati loss in eight starts.

Washington pounded three St. Louis pitchers for a dozen hits and 8 to 4 victory. Rain halted the Tigers and Athletics, while the White Sox-Yankee game was played in last Sunday's double-header.

Yesterday's STARS

(By The Associated Press.)

Jim Bucher, Dodgers—Rapped Pittsburgh pitching for three hits in each game of doubleheader.

Curt Davis, Phillies—Limited Cubs to five hits, retiring last 15 men in order.

Bill Werber and Lefty Grove, Red Sox—Werber hit four straight doubles in first game. Grove outpitched Pearson to take second from Indians. Travis Jackson, Giants—Led attack on Reds with three hits, driving in two runs.

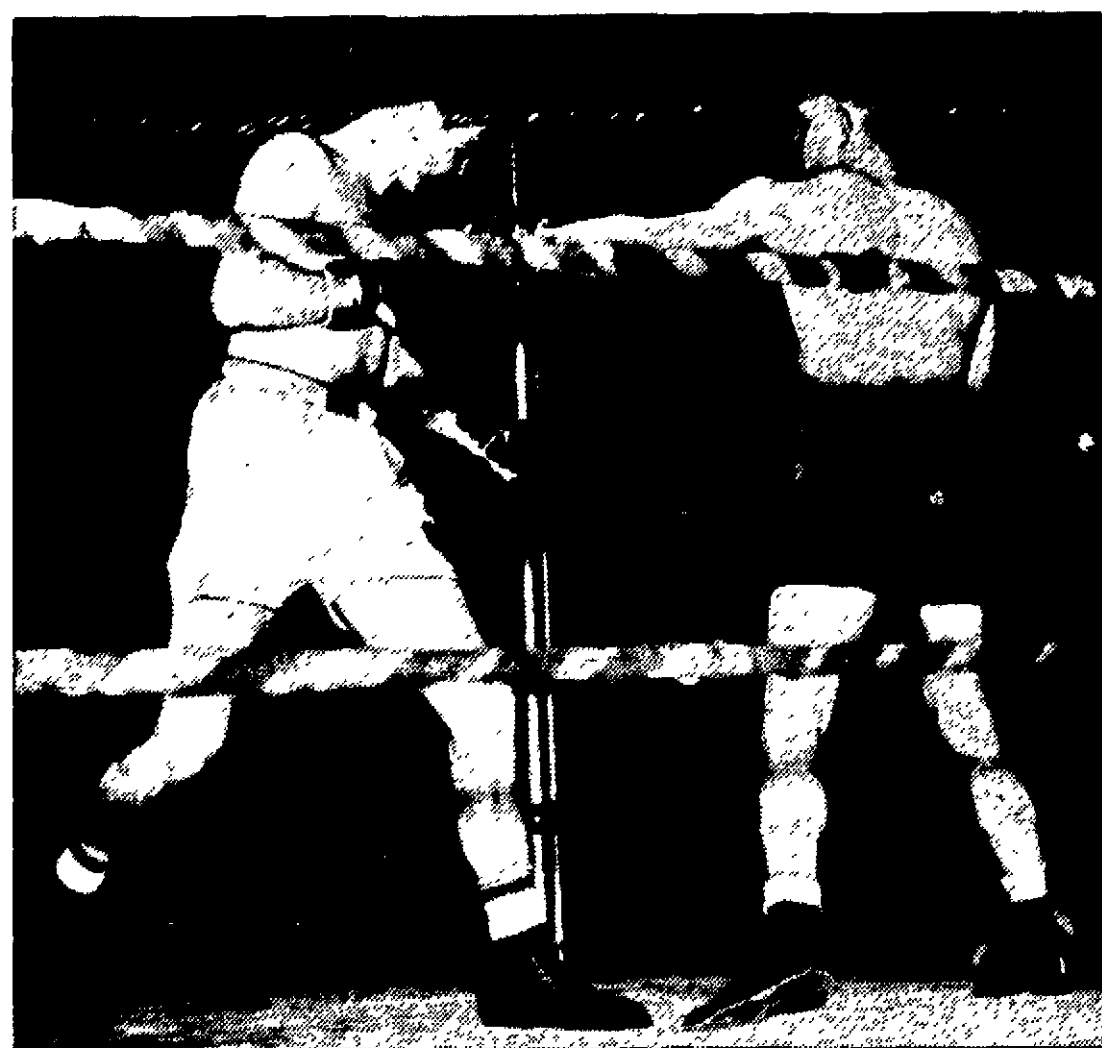

Johany Stone, Senators—Cracked out double and two singles against Browns.

Bill Hallahan and Terry Moore, Cardinals—Hallahan held Braves to four hits; Moore won game with home run in ninth.

BARMAN'S BREWERS SMASH ST. PAUL TEAM BY 10-0

The Barman Brewers last night defeated the St. Paul team by the score of 10 to 0. D. Brooks collected five hits for a perfect day at bat, while Frank Brooks and Falkman collected four apiece. The Brewers, without the aid of Toffel and Gersbach, held the strong St. Paul team in check. Brooks also started for the Barman, getting two singles and a terrific smash to left field with the bases loaded for a triple.

Mermaids Race at Manhattan Beach

New York, July 18 (AP)—The country's foremost women swimmers churned the waters at Manhattan beach today as the national A. A. championships opened with three of the eight champions defending their titles in the first events.

The first race sent Olive McKee of Seattle in defense of her 100-meter free style crown against other sprint stars.

Katherine Rawls, Miami Beach all-around star and holder of springboard dive championship, Lenore Knight, the mile queen at Homestead, Pa., and Alice Bridges, 220-yard backstroke titleholder at Whitinsville, Mass., sought to throne the Seattle miss.

With Miss Rawls not defending her diving title, Dorothy Pomeroy Hill of Los Angeles, 1934 platform diving champion was an outstanding favorite. Miss Knight was the favorite to retain her title in the day's championship—the one-mile style.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Famous Detroit Clowns Will

Wednesday evening, July 24, at the Fair Grounds, the Closs Clowns of Kingston will entertain the famous Detroit Clowns who will stop off here to show their bag of tricks.

The Detroit Clowns Baseball Team is one of the oldest road clubs in the business. It was organized in Detroit in 1812 and has made annual trips since that time playing games

St. Remy A. C. Seeks Games

The St. Remy A. C. wants to book a home game for Sunday. Managers may call Mr. Barnett at 1866-R after 6 p. m.

The club has an impressive record, many times running their consecutive wins over the twenty mark. It boasts victories over Bay Parkways, Carltons and Farmers in New York as well as All Phillies in Philadelphia. The team has met and defeated some of the best minor league teams in the country.

The Clowns are an original and novel attraction. The club is led by Buster Kenny, famous comedian and first baseman. He was an added attraction with the "House of David" for several years as a clown and first baseman.

The team is composed of former major and minor league stars. The infield is recognized as one of the fastest in organized ball and is composed of Peto D'Auria, from Mid-Atlantic League; Pepper Teetzel, Toledo American Association; Red Carpenter of Fort Wayne Central League and Buster Keen, first baseman who saw service in the Three-Eye and Western League.

Spencer, flashy center fielder, who had a tryout with the New York Giants; John Fidock is a veteran clown in left field, having joined the team from Jack Bentley's Rosies of York in New York-Pennsylvania League; and Lyn Tarlock, right

The pitchers are all experienced men and are capable of holding their own with any semi pro team. Big Jim Smith, who has been a clown for several years, was picked up by Washington, Senators, and returned to the Clowns in preference to going to the Southern League.

To Appear Tonight Maverick Theatre

DONALD McHENRY.

Donald McHenry, appearing this week at the Maverick Theatre, Woodstock, N. Y., is not altogether a newcomer to the Maverick. Two years ago he played there under the direction of Benrimo.

Mr. McHenry was born in Paterson, N. J., and had every intention of becoming a biologist, while studying for his degree at Carlton College, Northfield, Minn. He became interested in dramatics and soon forsok biology for the drama, in which he is making good as can be proved by his previous work and by his excellent work at the Maverick this summer. He has played stock in Minneapolis and St. Paul, also with the Newark Repertory Players; and the Long Island Players. Among his Broadway appearances have been Fleeta and Two Seconds. Mr. McHenry has done extensive radio work in which he had directed, written, acted and produced on stations WEAF, WABC, WOR, WMCA and others.

Model Village, 200 Years Old

In these days of model towns, entirely planned by one architect and not left to grow haphazard over the years, it is a surprise in Dorset in England to come upon Milton Abbas, which before 1752 was a small market town built about an ancient Benedictine abbey. When it came into the possession of Baron Milton, earl of Dorchester in the middle of the Eighteenth century, he demolished the entire village and rebuilt it on a new site with each cottage like its fellow, so that his own lordly mansion might be more secluded. It is one of the most curious villages of England.

Ulster Red Cross Asks Funds for Flood Work In 8 Counties of State

Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross is soliciting funds to aid in caring for those made homeless by the recent flood in New York state. In the eight counties in which the flood did great damage there are 3,047 families dependent upon the Red Cross for emergency and permanent relief as no federal or state funds are available for rehabilitating these families. The quota set by National Headquarters for Ulster county is $2,000 and already several substantial contributions have been made. Funds may be mailed to the local chapter at 260 Fair street or left at Red Cross headquarters there during the morning.

At the peak of the emergency relief the Red Cross was feeding 7,000 disaster sufferers and housing 3,700 men, women and children who had been driven from their homes by the floods. Approximately 9,000 families suffered losses in the floods with 142 homes completely washed away and more than 9,000 homes damaged to a considerable degree. More than 3,600 families have registered asking for Red Cross relief.

At the request of President Roosevelt and Governor Lehman, the Red Cross, following its usual disaster relief policy, has taken charge of the emergency relief work and the permanent rehabilitation of those families who have no resources of their own. Every chapter in the state has been given a minimum quota in order that the necessary $350,000 may be raised. National headquarters has contributed $25,000 to the fund.

Sunday, July 21, is being set apart as a special day for collection of disaster relief funds in the churches of the state and on that day every church in the state will be asked to make arrangements for a special collection for the flood sufferers.

Odor Description System Has Never Been Provided

Man has an important sense—the sense of smell—but not one word to describe any of the sensations which that organ conveys to his mind, says the New York Herald Tribune. He can describe his reaction to the sensations, but there are no words for describing the vast array of odors of which we become conscious, declared Dr. Ernest C. Crocker, of the Arthur D. Little laboratories, Boston. Terms such as pleasant, unpleasant, nauseating, repulsive, etc., are purely relative, are subjective and dependent upon one's experience and convey nothing of the original sensation to others. "Some system of odor description is required that is independent of a person's experience and background and that will create the same impression in the mind of the receiver as in that of the describer," Doctor Crocker says.

"Smelling and tasting are very much alike, and in what we call flavor actually work together. They are near enough alike so that smelling may be called 'tasting at a distance.' Actually both are chemical senses in that by means of them we respond to the presentation of small amounts of substances to nerves with special sensitive endings or detectors. Smelling is a million times more delicate than tasting as far as the amount of material goes that is required to produce a sensation."

Biological Experiment Opens Way to Germ Study

South Bend, Ind.—An important biological experiment which may eventually lead to the isolation of the germs that cause colds, influenza and infantile paralysis has been successfully completed at the University of Notre Dame. It is announced.

Prof. J. A. Reyniers has succeeded after six years of constant laboratory work in obtaining absolutely germ-free guinea pigs and in raising them without contamination by germ life of any kind.

The importance of this work lies in the fact that it permits a study of any single germ on a living organism, until now considered impossible. For more than 50 years this problem has puzzled scientists who hitherto have contended that life in an animal body was impossible without bacteria.

The presence of many forms of germ life has interfered seriously with the isolation in the past of germs that cause many of the most current human ailments. Consequently no serums or other effective preventatives for some of the ailments have yet been developed.

"Speed!" cries Roosevelt to PWA. So say we all of us.

Eighteen Square Feet of Skin Covers Human Body

If you average in size, it takes 18.5 square feet of skin to cover your body. This has been determined by a method developed by two Detroit physicians, for computing this difficult problem. One of the physicians, Dr. John C. Bugher, described the method to the American Society for Experimental Pathology.

It involves a camera and a mathematical formula. The patient is photographed in both front and side silhouettes after which the prints are made into standardized sizes. Then a planimeter traces around the borders of the silhouettes, automatically calculating the area within. A chartometer makes a second trip around the silhouettes automatically registering the length of the border lines.

This method gives results which are accurate within 1 or 2 per cent, while the error allowances for older systems was from 6 to 16 per cent.

Skin area measurement plays an important part in the treatment of thyroid and ductless diseases. An accurate knowledge of the body surface is essential for the estimation of basal metabolism.—Washington Post.

Believes Pepi II Reigned for the Longest Period

It is believed by historians that the reign of Pepi II of the sixth Egyptian dynasty was the longest on record. According to James Henry Breasted, Pepi II ascended the throne about 2668 B. C., when he was only six years old and reigned 91 years. The reign of Louis XIV of France is the second longest on record. He ascended the throne in 1643 at the age of five and reigned until his death in 1715, a period of 72 years. Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary reigned nearly 68 years, from 1848 to 1916.

The longest reign in the annals of English history was that of Victoria, who ascended the throne in 1837 and reigned 64 years, until her death in 1901. George III reigned from 1760 to 1820, a period of 60 years. The reign of Pedro II of Brazil was 58 years, from 1831 to 1889. Alfonso XIII, born in 1896, was proclaimed king at his birth, he being a posthumous son of Alfonso XII. At the time of his abdication of the throne of Spain in favor of the republic, in 1932, he had ruled 46 years.—Indianapolis News.
